CHARLES E. RAIBLE

Raible, Darrow In; Low Turnout

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON

Although six candidates sought election to fill two seats on the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated Tuesday, a turnout of voters was virtually the lowest recorded in years with an unofficial total of 2,124 residents balloting.

Successful candidates for 5-year terms were Charles E. Raible, local executive and civic leader, and Mrs. Marianne Darrow of Hurley. The membership of the new board which organizes in July will comprise seven men and two women.

The unofficial vote recorded in yesterday's balloting was:

Raible 1,422, Mrs. Darrow 701. John R. Warren of Hurley 637. Ellsworth L. Johnson incumbent member of 10 Kiersted Avenue 621. Mrs. Joan R. Langton of Lake Katrine 440. Robert L. Jones of 68 West Chester Street 216.

District officials noted that the unofficial total vote was 2,124, approximately 574 less than the vote cast in the 1969 election.

Commenting on the election, Raible said, "I will do my best to be of help to the Board, the community and the taxpayers. I will devote my efforts also to improving communication between the board, the teachers and the public and I hope that my experience in business will be of value in dealing with matters of importance and interest in the school district."

Members of the Kingston School District Consolidated Board of Education will receive the tentative 1970-71 budget at their meeting tonight. Story on page 3.

Expressing her appreciation to residents of the district who supported her, Mrs. Darrow said today, "I intend to represent everyone in the school district during my term in office. I will make it my business to find out what the problems are and do everything within my power to work in the interest of all people and the children."

Mrs. Darrow also said she will study and give her thorough attention to all matters that come before the board and to business that is referred to any committee on which she serves during her five-year term in office.

In other matters related to the school district, Richard Davis, president of the Kingston Teachers Federation, made known that teachers will picket the Board of Education offices at George Washington School between 7:15 and 8:15 p.m. today, during the executive meeting of the board. Later the teachers will attend the board session and a spokesman of KTF will make an important statement relating to the teacher-board negotiation dispute.

Paltz Students Vote to Ease Strike

By JEAN F. DOLAN

NEW PALTZ

While campuses across the nation burned with violence of anti-war protest and reaction to Kent State deaths, New Paltz students have stressed a policy of non-violence and protection of the buildings they have occupied since Monday night.

New Paltz State University students at noon today voted to end occupation of campus buildings and allow classes to resume.

They will continue to occupy the administration building which will be open to any administrators who wish to work in connection with the strike. The vote came after a mass rally on campus.

Speaking from the occupied buildings this morning, student leaders had urged continued violence in their plan to maintain possession of the buildings until all national strike demands are met. Campus buildings were locked to students and staff today following a mass meeting of 1,000 students Tuesday night and a somewhat smaller strategy session of 200 early this morning.

Approximately 250 Ulster County Community College students gathered in the cafeteria at the Stone Ridge campus this morning to indicate their support of student strike demands and to back the Saturday rally in Washington. Speakers called for withdrawal of all U.S. troops in Southeast Asia and petitions were circulated detailing additional national student demands.

Classes were in session today although there had been a number of rumors about a student strike at UCCC.

Take over of New Paltz campus buildings started Monday night when students occupied the administration building. Doors were not barred until Tuesday as the peaceful takeover spread to other campus buildings.

Two bomb hoaxes last night forced temporary evacuation of some of the buildings. The student leaders considered the bomb threats as disconcerting tactics of some outside parties.

Students are organizing to provide food and communications with the strikers and make contact with the surrounding community.

According to student spokesman, Richard Kigel, faculty resolutions have been prepared proposing that "no students be given academic failure for this year, while another called on political leaders to take immediate action to bring the troops home.

A contingent of New Paltz students will leave by bus for Washington tonight to take part in the national student rally in the capital Saturday.

The national student strike demands which serve as basis for all the current compus demonstrations call for withdrawal of all American troops from Southeast Asia; ending of political repression at home and ending of all university complicity with military research among other provisos.

Flag lowering incidents marked rallies at both New Paltz and UCCC yesterday afternoon. Although permission was not granted, students at New Paltz college lowered the flag to half staff where it remained for the rest of the day. At UCCC, students lowered the flag briefly for a moment of silent prayer for the four Kent College Students and other students immediately raised the flag to its usual position.

In Dutchess County, student strike plans were underway at Bard and Marist Colleges. Members of the Bard College community voted Tuesday night to suspend classes today through this weekend in response to "several recent federal actions." At Marist, students called a "boycott" of classes through the weekend. Vassar college students previously, had advocated suspension of all "normal activities" including classes to the end of the school year.

Bard's tentative schedule for the rest of the week includes workshops, and discussion today with extension of the same into the community Thursday. Friday students will attend a mass action scheduled in Poughkeepsie at 2:30 p.m. Plans to join the Washington rally are being made for Saturday. At 6:30 p.m. Sunday a community meeting is planned to evaluate the situation and decide if any further action will be taken.

The relatively peaceful student action in the Mid-Hudson Valley was in sharp contrast to violent action taken by collegians in other parts of the state and nation.

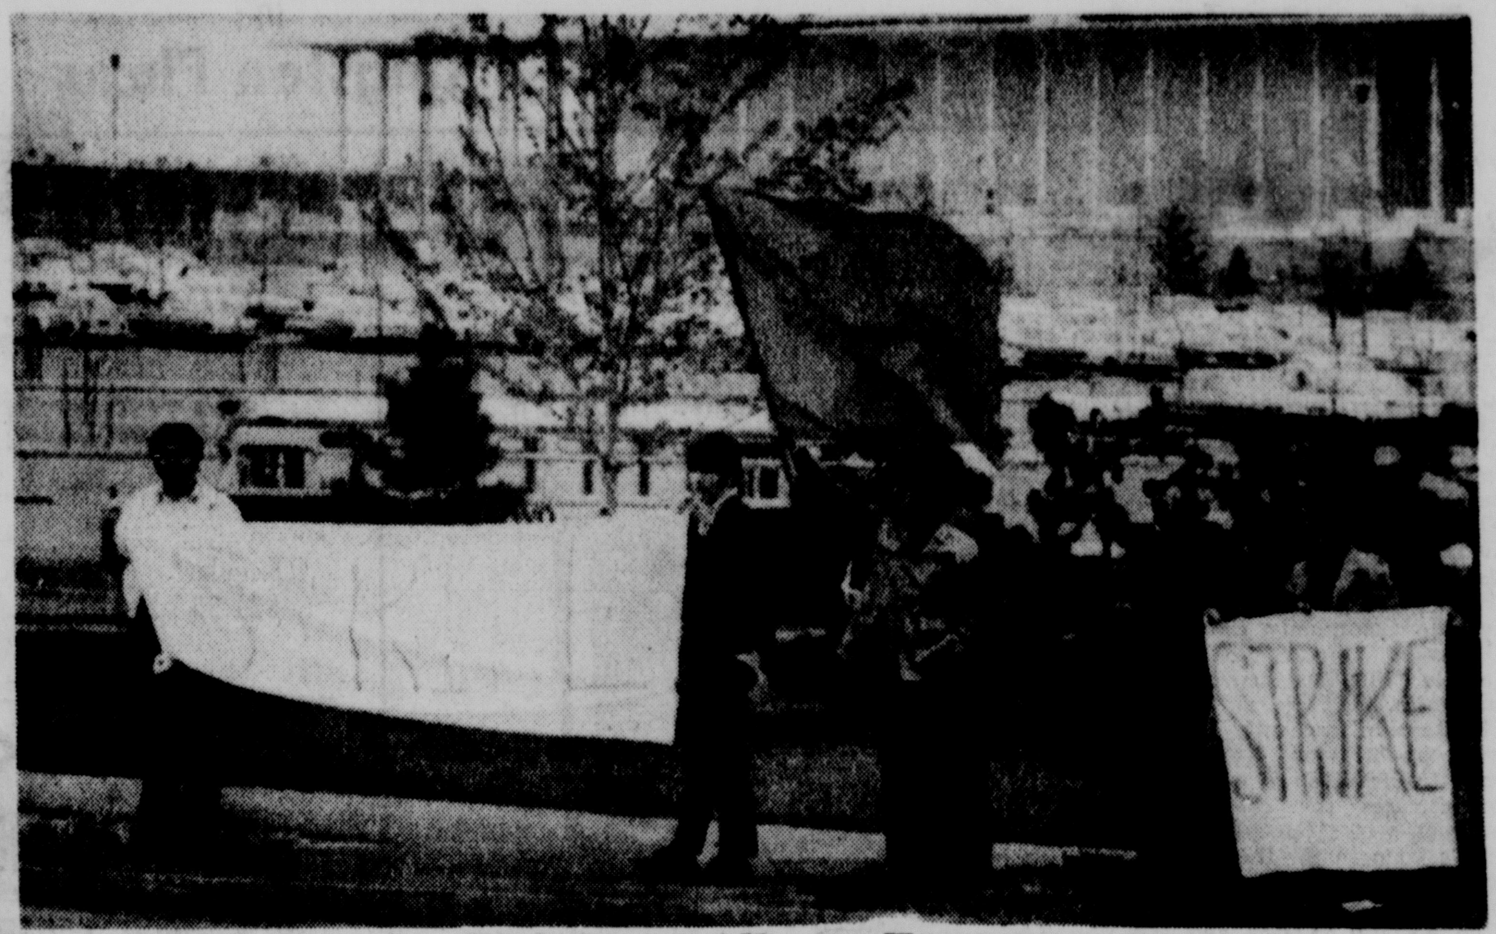
While there was some minor property damage at the New Paltz campus, administration officials noted that it appeared to be accidental rather than malicious or pre-meditated. There were rumors that a student had fallen from a window of one of the occupied buildings but apparently this was not true.

Upstate and downstate campuses rocked with what officials called "senseless vandalism" as student demonstrations reached an emotional pitch Tuesday.

The State University at Buffalo was the main trouble spot in New York State as students smashed windows and confronted police several times in rock versus tear gas struggles. At Albany, an estimated 2,000 State University students staged a sit in at Exit 24 on the New York State Thruway, but dispersed an hour later. On the Albany campus, fire damaged the Flag Room Lounge in a dormitory complex early today causing evacuation of 2,000 students from the dorm quadrangle's eight buildings.

Protests and strikes, firebombs and window breaking continued across the nation with the National Guard on alert in Wisconsin, Ohio, Maryland, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The President and Mrs. Nixon canceled travel plans for the week in an atmosphere of White House concern about domestic problems and demonstrations, according to United Press International.



Pickets at Albany Entrance

Students at State University at Albany picket an entrance Tuesday protesting President Nixon's war policy. Tuesday night there was vandalism at the campus library and U.S. Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, a supporter of President Nixon's Indochina policy, was shouted down earlier in the day. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Three New Drives Into Cambodia

SAIGON (UPI)—Three more Allied spearheads drove today into Cambodia, where American tank crews carried off booty from a village that had been leveled by U.S. bombs and napalm. The North Vietnamese countered with an attack in Vietnam that killed 25 GIs.

The three new drives, crossing the border from 65 miles northwest to 95 miles north of Saigon, were the fourth, fifth and sixth into Cambodia since President Nixon ordered an offensive six days ago to wipe out the Communist sanctuaries along the border.

They brought to 50,000 the number of Allied troops now to have crossed the border, about two-thirds of them South Vietnamese and the rest Americans.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said today President Nixon rejected a Phnom Penh request to send up to 400,000 troops into Cambodia before deciding on more limited U.S. action against Communist bases there.

Scott quoted Nixon as pledging during meetings with congressional leaders Tuesday that all Americans will be out of Cambodia "in seven weeks."

No major fighting was reported.

The little rubber plantation village of Snuol, about 12 miles inside Cambodia, became the first major settlement wiped out by the Allied task forces. Air strikes leveled it Tuesday after a U.S. tank column ran into stiff resistance there.

UPI correspondent Leon Daniel reported from the scene that the U.S. troops found seven bodies, four of them those of civilians, in Snuol. The guerrilla troops who were there Tuesday had fled along with approximately 2,000 villagers.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese boycotted today's scheduled 66th session of the Vietnam peace talks in Paris . . . Story Page 4.

Daniel said the American troopers went through the structures still standing taking beer, soft drinks, flashlight batteries, shoes, sunglasses, mirrors, clocks and even a motorcycle.

One of the victims of the Tuesday's napalm bombardment of the town was a small child. The U.S. Command in Saigon said there were 88 Communist troops killed in and around Snuol but Daniel saw no sign of the bodies.

The North Vietnamese counterattack came early today against a U.S. outpost two miles below the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in Vietnam. The American Command said 25 Americans were killed and 32 wounded.

This was seen as a direct challenge to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's warning last Saturday that he would urge a resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam if Communist troops attacked across the DMZ to counter the Allied offensive into Cambodia.

Military sources said the North Vietnamese who attacked the U.S. 101st Airborne Division troops this morning had indeed come across the buffer zone. Fifteen of their bodies were found.

The new drives into Cambodia opened a 200-mile front along the border encompassing the Parrot's Beak region west of Saigon and the Fishhook sector 70 miles north of the capital.

Each of the three new strikes involved approximately 5,000 men. No major fighting was reported.

$400 Thousand Airport Bond Issue

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

A resolution calling for a $400,000 bond issue for the proposed Ulster County Airport has been filed with the County Legislature.

It has been submitted by Eugene K. Noe, (R-Dist. 9) chairman of the Industrial Development and Publicity Committee and is thought by many to be an attempt to bring the controversial issue to a climax and probably defeat.

The airport controversy has been simmering for more than a year with much opposition to the proposal.

Most legislators reportedly have voiced their opposition privately and have indicated they would like the proposal raised formally so as to perhaps end the steady stream of speeches, letters, petitions and other actions against it. Many residents as well as legislators have questioned the need as well as the site.

The airport study, undertaken by the Airport Commission under the chairmanship of Harry Kapreilian, got off the ground back in 1967 when an advanced planning grant of $8,250 came from the federal government.

In August of last year, Kapreilian told the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, "We are not building an airport, we are merely making a feasability study."

Envisioned as a general utility airport with an instrument landing system, Kapreilian said it would be located on Hurley Mountain. That site was selected by the federal government.

Action on the resolution will come at the Legislature's regular May 14 meeting in the County Office building. The Board is also meeting this Thursday to act on bids received for the new infirmary on Golden Hill.

It is also expected that the Legislature will act on the "Buick" parking lot proposal at its May 14 meeting. Chairman Peter J. Savago will propose the county purchase property adjacent to the County Office building. He proposes also that fees or rates be charged and suggests that in this manner the eventual income will produce revenue for the county.

Council Session . . . Spirited, Long

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

Kingston Common Council met in spirited session Tuesday night arguing on a variety of topics from zoning off Fairview Avenue to Kingston Cablevision.

The Cablevision issue seemed to be somewhat of an afterthought, coming at the tail end of the three and a half hour meeting but once started, debate lasted for almost a half hour with most of the Council getting into the act.

Brian Smith (R-Third Ward), an alderman not noted for lengthy speeches, got the ball rolling by stating that he was "definitely opposed to an increase in Cable TV rates at this time."

(The company has a request now in Council committe for a rate increase from the present $4.95 per month to $6.50).

Smith called for an audit of the company's books and a public hearing. "An issue as controversial as this demands a public hearing," he said.

Donald E. Quick (D-Sixth Ward) whose Laws and Rules Committee met with representatives of Cablevision last week said "We did not discuss rate increases with them at that meeting. If we audit the books and they show the small amount (of profit) they (the company) claim I wonder if the aldermen would be willing to vote for a rate increase."

Quick said that company officials told him at the meeting that the company is making less than one per cent profit with its present rates.

Quick was also against a rate increase, stating that the service was poor, the picture was poor and that he wanted to check with the FCC on the "cutting out of Channel 2."

John Finch (D-Fifth Ward) noted that Cablevision had been expanding to the areas outside of Kingston and "wondered if their problem isn't devoting too much time and money to the outlying areas.

"They should devote their efforts to the city of Kingston where they started," Finch said. "We've been neglected."

Peter Mancuso (D-12 Ward) refuted statements attributed to Cablevision (by Mancuso) that rates were higher in other areas. Mancuso said that Cablevision representatives had told the aldermen that Saugerties paid $6 per month. The actual rate, Mancuso said was $5. Rates in Rosendale, Walden and New Paltz averaged about $5 according to Mancuso.

Titus B. Sims (R-13th Ward) said it was not the job of the aldermen to justify the increase. "It's up to Cablevision to convince their customers."

Edmond Roux (R-Ninth Ward) asked, "If they're not making money how come they're expanding?"

John Machione (R-Second Ward) and John Heitzman D-First Ward) exchanged words about a proposal to build garden apartments in the Fairview Avenue section of the city. The proposal is making its third appearance in the Council. Noting that, Heitzman said, "I hope something can be done to eliminate the hardships and hard feelings that have arisen in the past over this issue."

Machione said, "Hillcrest Gardens is a prime example of what one Jersey contractor can do to us." (Louis J. Hess of New Jersey is submitting the Fairview Proposal. A New Jersey firm owns Hillcrest Gardens on Fairmont Avenue, scene of protest over lack of heat this winter.)

Heitzman termed Machione's remarks "a prime example of what I'd like to avoid. The issue last time was nothing but a series of charges and countercharges. It's my ward. It's my headache."

The aldermen approved two urban renewal items, one in the downtown project and one uptown. They agreed that Metropolitan Life Insurance Company was an eligible and qualified developer for the uptown project and ordered advertisement of a public hearing to be held on May 19 at city hall at 7:30 p.m. The purchase price for the land by the insurance company from the agency was recorded at $118,500.

The aldermen also agreed to purchase land from the urban renewal agency for the new city hall in Broadway East for $23,900.

Smith and Quick exchanged words on that one. Smith said that he had always been opposed to the city hall downtown and said that there should have been a public referendum on such an important issue.

Quick countered by stating

Ulster Community Students Learn of Job Opportunities

STONE RIDGE

Eighty-five Business Division students at Ulster County Community College on Monday received valuable information about future job opportunities at the second annual conference on Employment at the college.

"Keys to Better Job Opportunities" was the theme of the Conference sponsored by the College's Business Division and the Business Studies Advisory Council.

Herbert Lyons Jr., the placement officer at the college, predicted that electronics will drastically change the types of jobs that will be available in the near future.

"Things are changing very rapidly in the nation today," he said, "and there will be new jobs in the future that we're not even thinking about today."

Lyons said some employers have curtailed their present college recruitment because of the economic situation in the nation today.

Another speaker was B. F. Redmond, manager of Management Development with IBM in Kingston. He told the students that "dialogue" is the essence of effective communication today between a business firm and its employers.

He explained "downward" and "upward" communications at IBM and told how the firm now is using closed circuit television to communicate with its employes.

Other speakers included John Phillips, local store manager for Caldor, Inc., who discussed the operation of The Company Employment Office, J. A. Kistner, customer service training director for the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., who spoke on The Company Training Program, and Kenneth P. Pangburn, president of the Colonial Cooperative Insurance Co. in Kingston, who told about Policies and Procedures for Professional Growth and Development.

Also speaking was a UCCC student, Edward Walker, Woodstock, who discussed the major questions in the minds of students relative to future job opportunities. He expressed his desire to discover what lies ahead for graduates of a two-year community college.

A unique feature of the Conference was a "Turn the Tables" session where students had an opportunity to interview representatives of management relative to job opportunities.

Ellenville Hospital Week

ELLENVILLE

Mayor Robert J. Dowling of Ellenville has issued a proclamation designating the week of May 10-16 as Ellenville Community Hospital Week.

This local observance runs in conjunction with national Hospital Week. Both designations have been made to call attention to and provide recognition for those whose first concern is the health of others.

The theme of Hospital Week 1970 is "Your Hospital Cares." This was announced by Evald Bors Koefoed, administrator of Ellenville Community Hospital. A parallel theme, Koefoed noted, is "Our first concern is your health."

The hospital's recently issued annual report for 1969, the administrator pointed out "demonstrates the continuous expression of the hospital family's concern for the health of the community." In addition to a report of services rendered by the hospital in 1969 and a financial statement, the report contains informative messages from President Benjamin Lonstein; Medical Staff President, Dr. Walter Sperling; Auxiliary President, Mrs. Gerry Wenig and from Koefoed.

"We are constantly reevaluating the needs of the community for health-care," Koefoed stated, "and with support from the community we will make even greater progress."

According to the report, the hospital treated 2,634 patients and 3,838 emergency room cases in 1969. During the year 137 babies were born. The statistics show a substantial increase in diagnostic testing procedures covering laboratory tests, X-ray examinations and electrocardiograms. These increases reflect an increased capacity of the hospital to perform such vital tests, by virtue of new equipment.

The mayor's Proclamation calls upon all of the citizens of Ellenville "to learn the various ways in which Ellenville Community Hospital fulfills its vital role; and the ways in which a citizen may help the hospital fulfill its goals.'"

Supreme Court Judgeship: Much Interest in Ulster

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

Delegates who will select candidates for the new Supreme Court judgeship recently legislated in Albany for the Third Judicial District are being designated in Ulster County this week.

Interest is also mounting in who the local GOP and Democrats will pick as their candidates for the prestigious position with District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca's name being advanced by Republicans as well as that of County Judge Raymond J. Mino who was the Ulster GOP candidate the last time a Supreme Court judgeship was available in the district.

Democrats meanwhile are reportedly considering a number of possible contenders with former candidate Abraham Streifer's name being mentioned as well as County Chairman Aaron E. Klein, City Judge Hubert A. Richter and Special City Judge A. Beck.

Special

Republican County Chairman Albert Spada, who met with other GOP leaders in the county yesterday to consider possible candidates, said that Vincent G. Connelly, Kingston lawyer, who previously has been considered a serious contender for the judgeship, is not interested this time.

Spada also said he plans to meet with other party chairman from the seven counties of the Third Judicial District to determine if they have any candidates. Included are Albany County with 20 delegates, Columbia, four; Rensselaer, 13; Greene, 3; Schoharie, two; Ulster, eight and Sullivan, 4.

Petitions filed by Republican Party Secretary, Clarence A. Anderson Tuesday, listed candidates for delegates as follows: John L. Larkin, Abraham Molyneaux, Howard C. St. John, N. Levan Haver, Charles F. Kaiser, Francis X. Tucker, Harry Gold and Michael Catalinotto.

Alternates include: Stewart Schantz, Richard W. Griggs, John J. Lynch, George Rusk Jr., Thomas F. Saccoman, Francis J. Vogt, Seymour Werbalowsky and Edward T. Feeney.

Democratic petitions for candidates for delegates list the following: Aaron Klein, Rose Hogan, Lawrence E. Woerner, G. Thomas Rea Jr., George A. Beck, Joseph P. Stoeckler, Arthur B. Ewig and Joseph Epstein.

Alternates include: Hubert Richter, John Parete, Thomas R. Lyle, Louis M. Klein, Vincent G. Bradley, Robert Stapleton, Thomas J. Killeen and John J. Gaffney.

County, City Officials

Meeting on Water Problems

KINGSTON

County and City officials met Tuesday night at City Hall in an attempt to stem the flow of water problems arising in connection with the City of Kingston's maintenance of sanitary sewer lines and the anticipated additional problems expected in connection with the construction of the county's new infirmary and jail on Golden Hill.

County Legislator Douglas V. Dye, chairman of the social services committee and Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago met with Mayor Francis R. Koenig, and other city and county officials.

The mayor termed the meeting "very fruitful" and Dye reported today that the group discussed the three basic problems under consideration.

Regarding sanitary sewers, it was agreed that if only maintenance and repairs are necessary, the city would assume the responsibility. If major reconstruction is necessary, then negotiations between the city and county would be reopened. No definition of what constitute a major job was given or were the costs of repairs determined. It was also disclosed that the city will issue all necessary permits for the construction of the infirmary.

Surface water problems were also discussed with the county agreeing that the building of the infirmary and the jail will create additional problems. It is expected that there will be 17 catch basins plus drainage from the roof of the new building which could create some flooding. Dye said the expense of correcting the situtation would not be high.

Water for fire protection was listed as the third problem but failure to arrive at a mutual understanding resulted in the matter being tabled for a future meeting with members of the Water Department.

Dye reported that Brinnier and Larios, civil engineers, employed by the county, estimated a cost of $228,000 to correct the problem of providing adequate water flow and pressure.

Also in attendance at the meeting were Corporation Counsel Aaron E. Klein, Charles J. Kelly, city plumbing inspector; Harry Edinger, county environmental sanitary engineer; Thomas J. Wickman, city engineer; Charles J. Cole, superintendent of public works; County Attorney Abram Molyneaux, Minority Leader Roger Mabie (D-Dist. 7) and other county legislators.

Ellenville Drug Arrests Climax of Investigation

ELLENVILLE

An investigation of two months conducted by area authorities of narcotics activities today climaxed with the arrests of four persons and seizure of a quantity of methadone in liquid and tablet form, barbituates and hypodermic needles and syringes and other implements adapted for use of durgs.

The probe was directed by Assistant District Attorney Joseph Traficanti, Investigator Thomas Mayone of the district attorney's staff, Lt. George Sheeley of the local police department and Senior BCI Investigator Harry Reichman of the State Police.

The arrests were made simultaneously by local police and state troopers at 6 a.m., after authorities executed search warrants for seven separate locations that were issued by Police Justice Ronald W. Elias.

Taken into custody were Barry Laird Bliden, 18, of 54 Elm Street, charged with criminal possession of implements used for administering drugs; James Arthur Lee, 39, also known as James Higgins, of 47 Market Street, accused of criminal possession of hypodermic syringes and criminal possession of dangerous drugs, barbituates; Wenceslao Lopez, 27, of 3 North Elm Street, criminal possession of dangerous rrugs — menthadone, a felony. The three reside in this village. Also booked was Edward Solecki, 48, of Highview Acres, Kerhonkson, who was charged with criminal possession of hypodermic needles. He was arraigned before Rochester Town Justice Harold Lipton.

The other three were taken before Judge Elias, who adjourned hearings until later dates.

City School Budget To Be Offered Tonight

KINGSTON

A tentative budget for 1970-71 will be submitted to the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated at the May meeting to be held at 8:30 p.m. today at the George Washington School offices. Figures of the budget have not been released but it is understood copies may be obtained after the meeting.

The board usually meets Thursday but because members must canvass the vote of yesterday's district election, the regular meeting will be tonight following an executive meeting.

Ellsworth L. Johnson, chairman of the personnel committee, will offer resolutions on resignations, terminations, appointments, transfer of tenure, and other matters relating to professional and civil service employes.

Harold L. Keator, chairman of the business management committee, will present the tentative budget. He also will report on the budget statement and statement of vouchers for the period ending April 30, and the report of the collector-treasurer and the school lunch program for the month of March. Resolutions for tax adjustments and refunds, permission to participate in cooperative bread bids for 1970-71 and for permission to dispose of old records will be presented by Keator.

Bevier H. Sleight, chairman of the building committee, will submit a resolution for a change order in general construction for the Zena school, and Mrs. Evelyn Corsones, chairman of public relations, will present the committee report and a resolution for the canvass of votes.

Milton L. Reynolds, chairman of the transportation committee, will present a resolution for transportation for physical handicapped, and the meeting will conclude with the report of Superintendent of Schools Louis A. Salzmann.

Incumbent Beaten in Bridge City

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (UPI) — A white business executive, campaigning against forced busing of elementary school children to achieve racial balance and a lack of classroom discipline, narrowly defeated the Negro president of the Poughkeepsie City School Board Tuesday night.

In a record voter turnout for a school board election here, wealthy top company executive Louis Kustus defeated Mrs. Marie Tarver, a housewife and assistant director of the city's Model Cities program.

Final unofficial returns showed: Kustus, 2,719; Tarver, 2,453.

Kustus, president of Toy House, Inc., had campaigned strongly against the city's eight month old busing plan for children in grades 1-4, instituted when classes opened last fall.

He also charged Mrs. Tarver with and the board with a "lack of leadership" in dealing with student discipline problems in the city's high school.

Reds Boycott the Paris Talks

PARIS (UPI)—The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese boycotted today's scheduled 66th session of the Vietnam peace talks in protest against President Nixon's policies in Indochina. The meeting was canceled.

Both Communist delegations said they would be back at the bargaining table next Thursday.

North Vietnam's spokesman said the one-week boycott was motivated by what he called "Nixon's determination to prolong the war in South Vietnam, step up the war in Laos, and lately by launching an open aggression against Cambodia."

"Our delegation and the delegation of the provisional revolutionary government have decided not to attend the 66th session today, May 6th, and to put off the next meeting until May 14th," the spokesman, Nguyen Thanh Le, told a news conference.

The talks, usually held on Thursdays, had been set for Wednesday this week because this Thursday is a national French holiday.

Le said that since Nixon became President, he had sent U.S. warplanes over North Vietnam 880 times in violation of what he called "the American pledge to stop all bombings and other warlike acts" in the skies over the Communist nation.

'If the Nixon administration continues its bombardments against the territory of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, it must bear full responsibility for all the serious consequences arising from its acts," the Hanoi spokesman said.

Le said the text of the statement read to newsmen was delivered by a Hanoi liaison officer to the U.S. delegation at 9:30 a.m., one hour before the session was to have started.

Shortly thereafter, a U.S. spokesman announced the 66th session had been canceled.

Sale of Jets To Israel Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Congressional sources indicate they believe President Nixon will decide to resume the sale of Phantom jets to Israel "fairly soon."

The final decision will depend on two things:

—The outcome of private talks now under way within the four-power framework of the United States, Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

—Current efforts of U.S. diplomats to clarify Soviet intentions in the area—particularly Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's news conference answer to a question concerning reports of Soviet pilots flying Egyptian MIGs in operational missions.

Kosygin said the pilots "are there for the purpose of aiding the U.A.R. (United Arab Republic) in the struggle against Israeli aggression, an aggression which in turn is massively supported by the United States which is providing Israel with arms and extending all-out support in creating aggression against that country."

Some observers in Washington believe the presence of Soviet pilots has upset a precarious balance of power in the Middle East that Nixon had tried to maintain.

It could be redressed at least in part by a U.S. decision to lift the ban on the sale of additional jets to Israel.

Files Suit To Lower Vote Age

NEW YORK (UPI) —R. Peter Straus, president of WMCA radio, filed suit in federal district court Tuesday to lower the voting age to 18 in New York State.

In his suit, Straus charged that the New York State constitution and election laws are in violation of the 14th Amendment to the United States constitution because they deprive citizens under the age of 21 of due process and equal protection under the law.

Both the state constitution and election laws bar persons under 21 years of age from voting in federal, state and municipal elections.

The Straus suit, in addition to asking for a formal lowering of the voting age, seeks an injunction forcing boards of election throughout the state to allow registration of 18, 19, and 20 - year - olds and preventing state officials from prosecuting those who try to register.

Salary Hikes

Rocky Signs the Fiscal Bills

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has signed fiscal bills that commit the state to $112 million in pay increases for its employes and $65 million more in cash spending authorized in the supplemental budget.

The governor approved the salary hikes at a bill-signing ceremony at the Capitol Tuesday. Rockefeller's office announced his action on the supplemental budget earlier in the day.

The wage package provides employes with average increases of 14 per cent over two years. Part of the boost was retroactive to last April 1, the start of the state's fiscal year. The rest falls due next Oct. 1, or about a month before the statewide election.

Included in the measure are substantial pay hikes for some top New York officials.

The chancellor of the State University system and state education commissioner, who had been drawing $45,000 a year, will receive $51,275 by next April as the result of salary increases spread over three steps.

The commissioners of health and mental hygiene and the chairman of the Public Service Commission will be paid $45,475 each and most other department heads $42,475 a year.

The supplemental budget bill is introduced annually at the end of the legislative session primarily to cover spending items not included in the main budget. It also serves as a device to restore some funds cut from the main budget as an economy gesture.

One of the largest spending items in the supplemental budget this year was the $11.6 million for additional state aid to public schools that the legislature authorized over and above what Rockefeller had recommended.

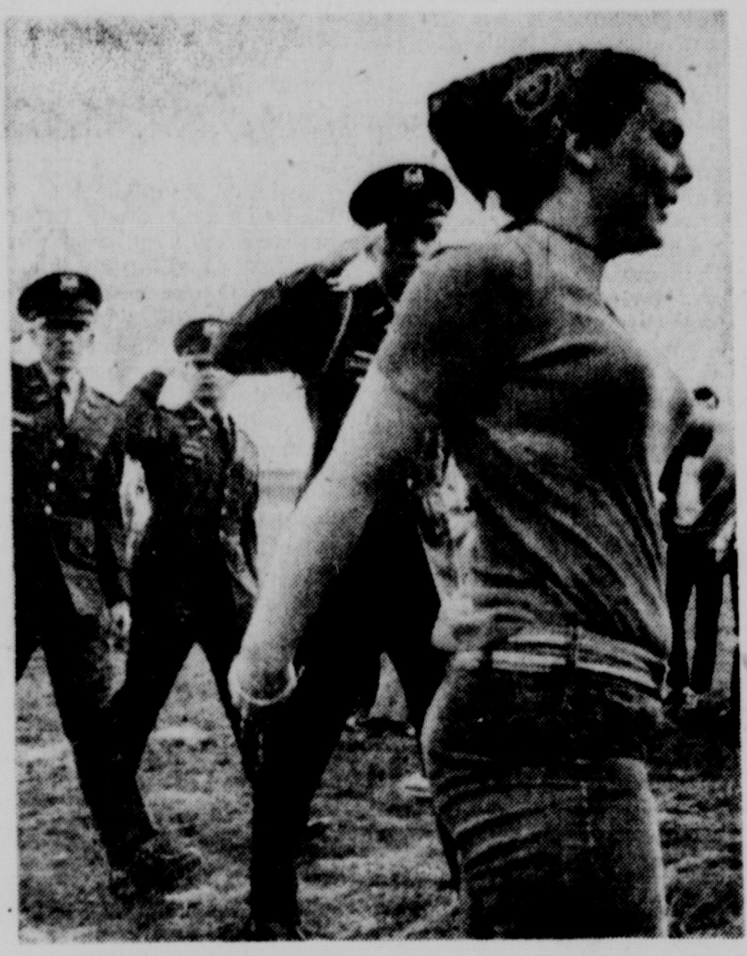
In other areas, the governor has signed bills that:

— Require the inspection of transmission pipelines conveying natural gas at least once a year as a way of detecting leaks.

Prohibit banks in the State Higher Education Assistance Corp. program from restricting loans to college students whose families had an account at the bank prior to applying for the loan.

— Obligate retailers to post a sign when they sell milk for less than dealers' cost. The purpose is to make consumers aware of any "price war" or sale of milk as a "loss leader" to attract customers to a store.

— Authorize the spending of $85,000 to prevent or end water pollution on the St. Regis Mohawk Indian Reservation in Franklin and Jefferson counties.



BUT EYES WERE RIGHT — These Army ROTC cadets are not saluting the young lady, in spite of appearances. Provide More Funds For Vet Scholarships

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —Governor Rockefeller today signed a bill to provide an additional 600 Vietnam war veteran scholarships in 1970-71 for returning veterans.

The measure, sponsored by Assemblyman Leonard Bersani, R-Syracuse, carried out the recommendation made by the governor.

It also extends to July 1, 1971 the period to be used in figuring eligible military service. A child of deceased or disabled veterans meeting these requirements is eligible to try for a scholarship.

Rockefeller, in approving the measure, said "in a small way" it represents the recognition by the people of the state "of their obligation to citizens who have served in the armed forces of our country during periods of conflict and to their children in cases where they have died or become severely disabled in the course of military service."

In other action the governor approved bills to:

— Increase to 10 years the terms of special session judges in Syracuse. The present term is six years.

— Amend the conservation law to increase from four to six the number of special areas in a county for the training of dogs.

— Authorize the village of Kenmore to have a housing authority of five members.

— Designate Prospect Mountain State Parkway as Prospect Mountain Veterans' Memorial Highway. The highway is located near Lake George.

GOP and Dem Candidates Mourn the Kent Tragedy

By United Press International

Both Republican and Democratic candidates for office in New York State mourned the shooting of Kent State students by the national guard in Ohio.

Rep. Richard McCarthy, D-N.Y. — a candidate for U. S. Senate — went further and introduced a proposal in the House to declare war against North Vietnam. The Buffalo congressman said if the proposal reached the floor, he expected it would be defeated and, therefore, let President Nixon, know that Congress opposes the war.

Almost unnoticed in the furor about the Indochina War and Kent State was an admission Tuesday by Governor Rockefeller that he had failed to fulfill one of his major campaign promises of 1966.

Rockefeller told a conference on drugs that his Narcotics Addiction Control Commission and other phases of the war against drugs have flopped, causing about $250 million to go down the drain.

"We thought we had a good answer," Rockefeller said, "After four years we have to admit we have not achieved success even though we have given everything we can to solve the problem."

Democrats had charged that the program was a failure, but, up until now, Rockefeller defended the program, saying only that more time was needed. About a month ago, Lawrence Pierce resigned as head of the control commission and Rockefeller did not make a large budget request for the commission, transferring some of its functions to different departments.

Train Bill Rides Smoothly Toward Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill aiding the nation's financially troubled railroad passenger trains rode smoothly toward expected final approval in the Senate today.

The proposal would establish a profitmaking corporation to take over much of the nation's ailing rail passenger service in much the same way COMSAT operates the country's satellite communications system.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said the single-corporation proposal, a substitute for a bill approved earlier by the Senate Commerce Committee, has the complete support of the Nixon administration.

Another substitute proposal, offered by Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., would establish three regional corporations to operate on a nonprofit basis.

Opening debate on the single-corporation plan Tuesday, Hartke told the Senate:

"This country needs all modes of transportation operating at their maximum efficiency if in the 1970s Americans are to be able to travel from city to city safely, comfortably and in reasonable time."

Hartke noted the administration opposed a direct subsidy plan when it was before the Commerce Committee but changed its position when key changes were made.

The plan before committee would have provided $435 million over four years in direct federal subsidies for the purchase of new equipment and for operating expenses.

The single-corporation approach was worked out as a compromise by Hartke and Sen. Winston Prouty, R-Vt.

Picketing Teachers

Did the teachers in the Kingston School District Consolidated who picketed schools in the district on Tuesday demean their profession and themselves? In our opinion they did. Is this type of action in a salary difference by the teachers in the secondary schools of education responsible for fast deteriorating atmosphere of respect for law and order on the campuses of schools of higher education throughout the country? We believe it is.

The example set by teachers has an influence outside as well as in the classroom. This influence remains with the student long after much of what has been learned from the books has been forgotten. A successful teacher is first of all a dedicated person. Dedicated to his work and dedicated in service to all those who will come under his guidance. The teachers help in the formation of the character of our young people, a mission which grows increasingly in importance as the nation steps up its demand for educated people. Upon the proper education of our children depends the future of our nation and the teacher probably has a wider and more lasting influence on the child than any other with the exception of his parents. Teachers have an intimate contact with the young people of the community.

Children are not cars or steel bars to be mass produced. The schools produce human beings who will lead this country in a few years. They must be molded in an atmosphere that will make them into good leaders.

Teachers in the Kingston School District picketed in support of their rejection of a $500 across-the-board salary increase offered by the Board of Education. We don't believe the negotiations call for teachers marching in front of the school children carrying placards.

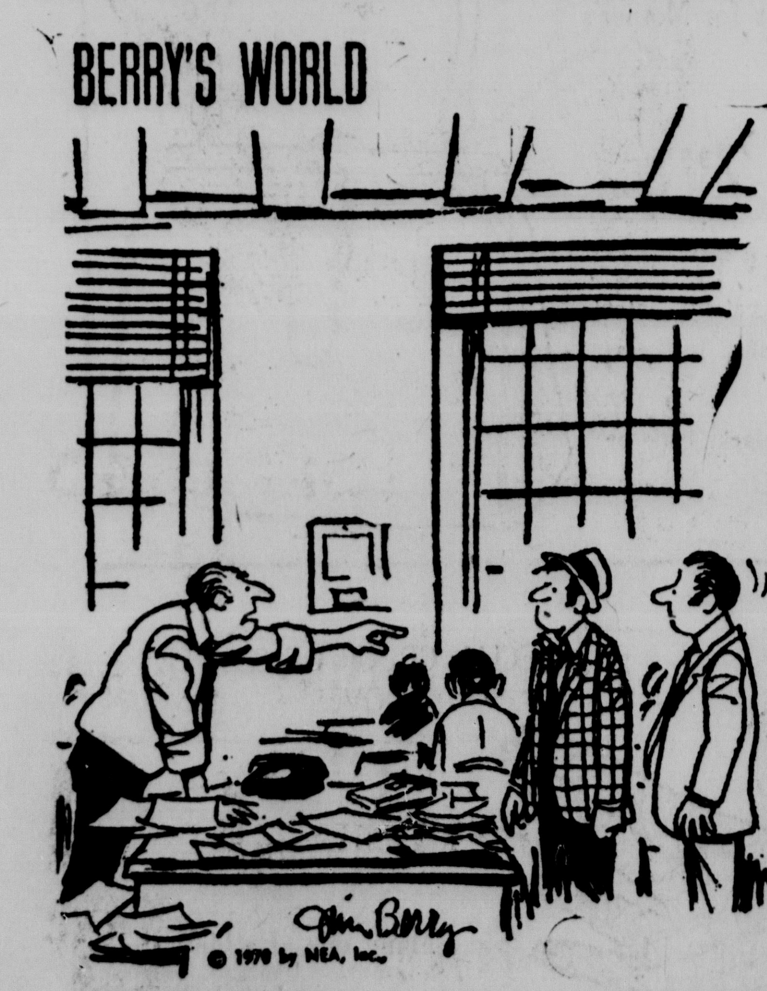
They Need It More

Thanks for the raise, but others need it more, is the sense of a letter written by some 40 workers in the Department of Housing and Urban Development to Secretary George Romney. Their letter said that a six per cent raise for them in top grades is substantial but for a $4,500 a year employe it doesn't make much of an impact. If their raise could be given the low-scale workers, it could lift many of them above the poverty scale.

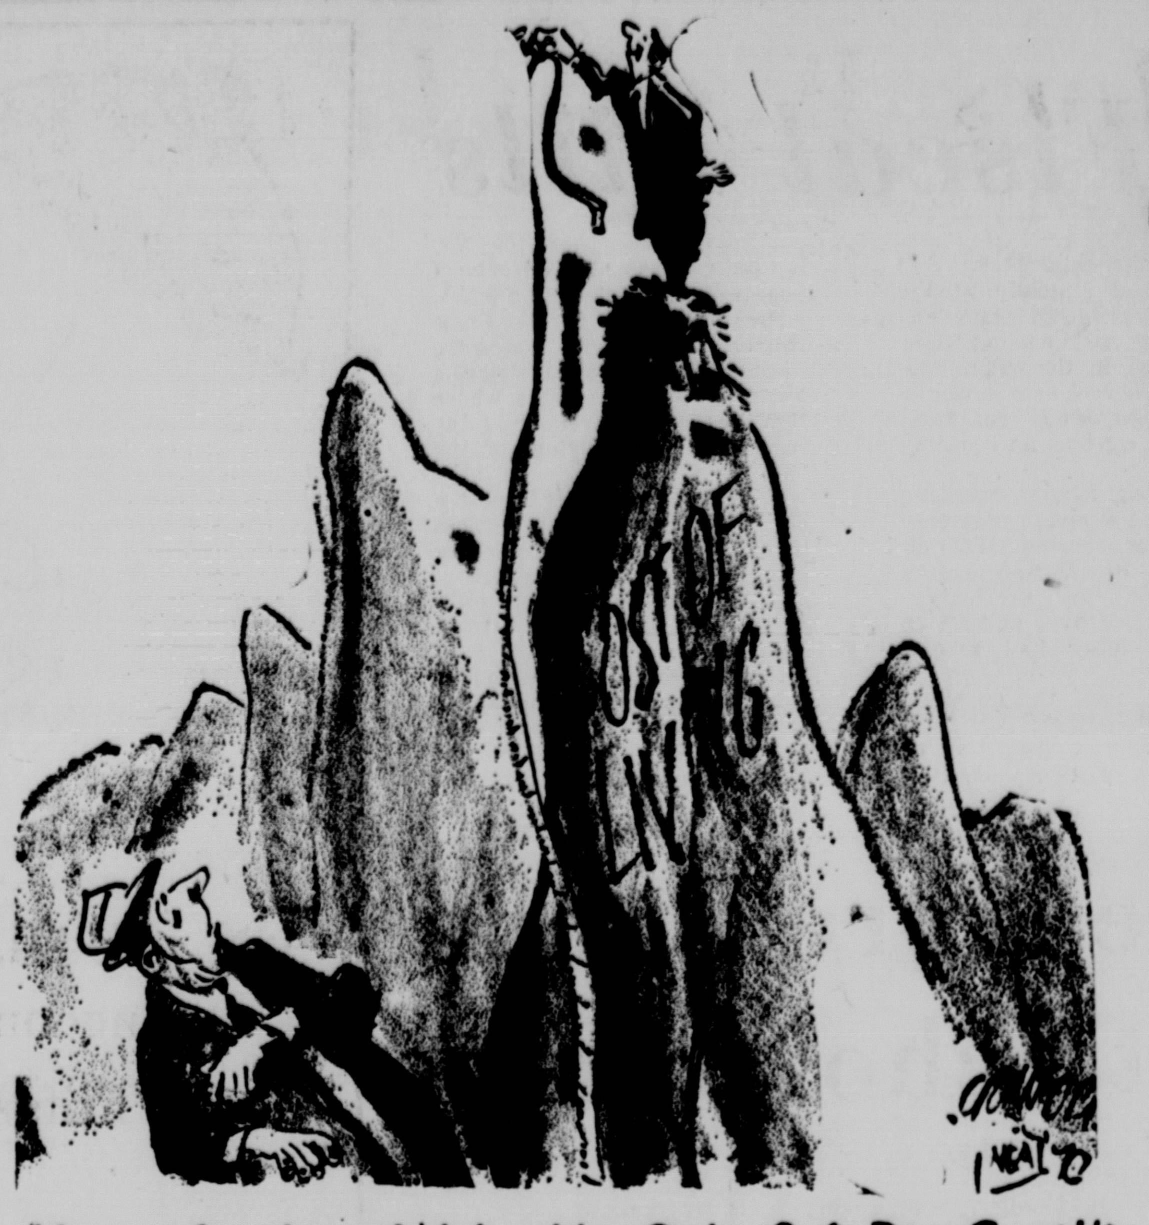
HUD employes felt that they would get a sympathetic hearing from Romney. He had suggested at a recent Cabinet meeting that he and his colleagues take salary cuts to fight inflation, but he was quietly told to leave the inflation battle to others. The loyal HUD employes felt he would understand the gesture, and, hopefully, work out the red tape involved.

Whether or not it can be a reality, it is a warm-hearted move by young HUD workers who seek to transfer their newly acquired money to less fortunate workers. It is unusual to say the least. The writers are aware of the difficulties, but don't think they are insurmountable. Certainly, their request is not spreading to the civil service as a whole, nor should it. It is entirely a matter of choice. But in these days of pressure and strikes, it is a very nice offer. These workers should be congratulated on their unselfishness.

Airport and airline security are close to the hearts of the 45,000 member International Federation of Air Line Pilots Association of whom 30,000 are Americans. They are striving for a strong, unified pilot voice to ban hijacking and bombing, which threaten their lives and their livelihoods. Their concern should be widely shared.



"OK—YOU—cover the vote on Blackmun, and—YOU—cover the Martha Mitchell reaction."



'Jump for Joy---We're Up Only 0.4 Per Cent!"

David Lawrence Says

U. S. Demonstrates It Will Not Desert South Vietnam

WASHINGTON — Both the Soviet Union and Red China have issued statements blasting President Nixon for daring to attack the Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia in his effort to protect American troops against raids from these bases. But, at the same time, the Communists are apparently stunned by the boldness of Mr. Nixon's declaration that, even if he fails to gain a second term in 1972 because of his actions, he intends to do his duty in protecting the lives of the American troops in South Vietnam as a gradual withdrawal is carried out.

Far more significant, perhaps, than the assaults on the supply bases in Cambodia is the determination shown by the Commander-in-Chief of the United States to resume the bombing of North Vietnam if it is necessary to safeguard our troops. It is conceivable that Hanoi was getting ready to conduct a major offensive after the United States pulled out a substantial number of its forces. Mr. Nixon's decision, therefore, is in the nature of a warning. He is prepared at any time not only to begin bombing but possibly to return troops to South Vietnam to protect those left behind if their lives should be jeopardized. The whole objective is to convince the Communists that both sides should sit down at the peace table and devise a peace agreement.

The operation in Cambodia by itself is of military importance. But the arguments of the President's critics that it is a "new war" or part of a plan to "widen the Vietnam War" really have no basis. Talk of that kind could actually help to persuade the Honoi government that Mr. Nixon will be forced by public opinion to order the troops out of Vietnam and do no more fighting. The Paris Peace talks have been unproductive thus far because of a belief by North Vietnam that the United States would withdraw almost all of its forces and there would be no need for the Communists to make any agreement at Paris.

President Nixon's latest television talk stresses that he is not ready to give up the fight just because he is withdrawing troops. He also intends to continue to assist the South Vietnamese not only by supplying munitions, military advisers and other forms of aid, but by being prepared to keep enough air power in Vietnam to carry on powerful bombing operations if the North Vietnamese start an offensive which violates the understandings that have up to this time been observed by both sides.

There have been reports that Red China and North Vietnam have publicized the anti-administration comments made by many Senators and representatives here who oppose the Vietnam War and are speaking out emphatically against the attacks on the sanctuaries in Cambodia. Mr. Nixon's supporters, however, feel he has overcome any impression that the enemy may have had of weakness or lack of determination on his part by his announcement that he will not be influenced in his conduct of the war by political considerations. The polls taken since his television speech last week indicate that he has widespread public support, and these are being cited to show that his critics in Congress by no means have a majority of the people on their side.

It is two and a half years before the next presidential election, so there is plenty of time for Mr. Nixon to bring about a peaceful settlement in Southeast Asia through the help of neutral countries. The expense of a prolonged Vietnam War is probably not relished by either the Soviet Union or Red China, and a meaningful peace conference may not be far off now that the United States has demonstrated that it will not surrender and will not desert its ally in South Vietnam, even though the bulk of the American Army may be withdrawn during the next two years.

The war might have been ended long before this if the North Vietnamese had not gotten so much encouragement from reading about the open opposition to the Johnson administration and its successor by members of Congress who have been trying to get votes from families with draft-age youngsters. The critics argue that the United States need not have become a participant in any war in Southeast Asia. This, however, overlooks the fact that the Soviet Union and Red China are pivotal factors in the future of Asia. The United States has a deep interest in the Pacific as well as the Middle East and is again making it clear that aggression inside Asia will not be ignored by this country and its allies.

Cambodia Will Be Drain, No Advantage for Soviet

By LEON DENNEN
(NEA Foreign News Analyst)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — The Russians, as was expected, condemned the intrusion into Cambodian territory by American-supported South Vietnamese forces. But Moscow's position on Indochina remains ambiguous.

The Kremlin leaders are only too aware that the situation shaping up not only in Indochina but in all Southeast Asia is almost ideal for their Red Chinese enemies.

The Chinese are not likely to intervene actively in Cambodia but will adopt and ultrarevolutionary posture about the danger of "American imperialism."

This will be an easy way for them to prolong the conflict and put the Russians in the embarrassing position of having to foot the bill.

For the Russians, this is a particularly bitter pill to swallow. They have little influence in North Vietnam which, under the leadership of Le Duan, Hanoi's Communist leader, is edging closer to Peking.

Moscow was not even invited to the recent Indochinese conference of North Vietnamese, Laotian and Cambodian Communists initiated by Prince Sihanouk, the deposed Cambodian chief of state.

But Chou En-lai, Peking's premier, played a leading role at the conference. It was he who set its tone by denouncing both American and Russian imperialism.

Whether the Russians under the circumstances will accept new economic burdens in Vietnam and Indochina is still early to predict.

There is reason to believe that the United States has been engaged in secret negotiations with Russia which might eventually be resolved at the conference table.

Fear of being branded by Peking as an American accomplice is obviously the main reason why the Russians are still reluctant to agree to an international conference.

However, Russia's Communist chief, Leonid Brezhnev, and his representative at the United Nations hinted strongly in recent statements that they are considering the possibility of such a conference.

There is some evidence that members of Moscow's all-powerful Politburo, including Premier Kosygin and top ideologist Mikhail Suslov, believe that a continuation of the Indochinese conflict is no longer in Russia's interest.

This apparently has long been the view of some of Moscow's top military strategists. They see China as the main enemy.

According to East European diplomats, Russia has been in the grip of "a profound, almost irrational, fear of China" since Peking launched its first earth satellite.

"Even ordinary Russians are convinced that if China gets a nuclear delivery system the first target will be Moscow," one diplomat said.

The Soviet press again is printing alarming reports about war preparations in Peking, "which are continuing on an ever-rising scale." The Chinese, the Russians claim, are building airfields, ammunition dumps and roads on the border of the Soviet Union on a frantic scale.

Since frontier talks between Russia and China began in Peking on Oct. 20, Soviet propaganda has been only sporadic with charges of "war hysteria" in China.

Russia's writing on the militarization of China has even managed to convey the impression that it was more of a shadow play, a maneuver in the internal struggle for power in Peking.

This assumption is no longer made. "Dragon Mania" is the headline of a long article on China in the Komsomolskaya Pravda newspaper of the Young Communist League.

The Russians thus have much to gain from a diplomatic conference on Vietnam and Indochina. A continuation of the conflict is no longer to their advantage.

Jack Anderson Says

Henry Kissinger Influenced Nixon's Decision in Cambodia

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro Agnew's office, guided presumably by the Nixon administration's southern strategy, has rushed to the defense of Senator Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., whom this column accused of splattering tobacco juice in the Capitol's historic hallways.

We reported that crusty old "Hummon," as he is known in his native Georgia, was the last of a bygone breed of tobacco chewers who once populated the Senate. In the absence of the shiny brass spittoons that used to dot the Capitol corridors he ejects his tobacco streams into handy hallway corners — much to the distress of the cleaning crews that follow with mops and detergents.

Agnew's office apparently looked upon our story as another slur upon the south and issued a militant Agnew-style reply to readers who expressed outrage at Talmadge's expectorations.

Agnew aide Tom Catlin snappishly quoted Talmadge's office as denying that "the cleaning crews are constantly scrubbing the tobacco stains which Talmadge leaves in his wake as he progresses down the halls."

Furthermore Catlin said it wasn't true that "Hummon" was the last of the Senate chewers. "Presently," wrote the Vice Presidential spokesman, "there are several Senators who chew tobacco."

Since Agnew has complained about the fairness of the press and since he has singled me out for special condemnation, suggesting that I wear a supphose stocking on my head, I asked my staff to undertake an exhaustive investigation (1) to determine whether we could have been mistaken about Talmadge's spitting habits and (2) to find out just who the other chewers are.

Agnew's office was no help at all. Catlin wouldn't discuss his findings on tobacco chewing in the Senate and refused to identify the other chewers.

Back to Brigade

So we went back to the Mop-and-bucket brigade, whose workers originally told us about Talmadge's one-man pollution. They reiterated their allegations, adding that the Senator's favorite spitting spots were the hallways where he waits for elevators.

We also contacted Talmadge's office again. An aide insisted he had never seen Talmadge chew in the halls but acknowledged the possibility that the Senator had both chewed and spat during his wanderings around the Capitol. Within his own office, he spares the walls and floors by keeping a ceramic spittoon beside his desk.

Talmadge's aide, asked about other tobacco plug addicts, said he understood that Senators Harrison Williams, D-N.J., and Thomas McIntyre, D-N.H., both chewed tobacco.

A spokesman for McIntyre, the pinch-faced New Englander, was highly amused at the report but categorically denied it. And an aide to Williams, the baritone-voiced tweedy ivy leaguer, said that the Senator had recently carried a plug into a coal mine where no smoking is permitted but that he was not a habitual chewer.

As an added check, we contacted both the Democratic and Republican secretaries, men who have been around the Senate for a total of 44 years and who deal intimately with its members. Neither could think of a single senator who chews tobacco other than Talmadge.

Perhaps the Vice President, who is so aggrieved over careless reporting, should address his admonishments to his own staff.

Nixon's Advisor

The advisor who, more than any other, influenced President Nixon's decision to attack the Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia was his National Security Aide, Henry Kissinger.

The harsh-minded Kissinger heads a secret task force known, inside the White House as the Washington Special Action Group, which took up the Cambodian Crisis and recommended the strike against the sanctuaries.

The group viewed with alarm evidence that the North Vietnamese were enlarging their sanctuaries and preparing a new liberation movement to bring all of Indochina under communist control. There were also intelligence reports that the North Vietnamese were planning a major offensive in South Vietnam.

All of this, coming after President Nixon's announcement of another troop withdrawal and reiteration of his peace offers, was taken as Hanoi's reply to the President. Kissinger concluded that a show of strength was the only way to convince Hanoi that the U.S. did not intend to pull out of the Vietnam War on Communist terms.

Insiders complain that the Kissinger group became obsessed with the short-range objectives and largely ignored the long-range consequences. They say Kissinger, who himself has emphasized the long-range view in the past, glossed over the sections in the policy papers that went beyond the immediate situation.

The same arguments that led the President to adopt his Guam Doctrine, aimed at keeping the U.S. from being dragged into Asian conflicts, were shrugged off by Kissinger, according to the insiders, who admittedly are disgruntled because their advice wasn't followed.

Footnote: The President also consulted at length with General Creighton Abrams, the American commander in Vietnam, whose arguments in favor of the drive into Cambodia had a powerful effect upon Nixon.

Federal Agents

This column recently described the woeful lack of coordinated training that federal agents received in fighting the Mafia. This has been the special concern of Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., who is setting hearings for mid-May on the $18 million consolidated law enforcement center at Beltsville, Md.

He also wants to make sure that environmental and consumer probers get the same elite training planned for criminal agents.

Fascell already is sending out invitations to the justice, treasury and other departments, plus outside experts, to testify. He is eager that the costly law enforcement center, first in the nation, doesn't get off to a wasteful and crippled start.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

If the Washington press corps is reporting exactly what it hears — and in the absence of disclaimers we may assume they are — then the business of statecraft has reached a new low. Our officials, to be blunt, have not closed the credibility gap.

Our statesmen of both parties must feel that the people are hopelessly forgetful. When President Nixon announced that the United States would guarantee the borders of Israel, it sounded great for Israel and one more big step toward United States involvement in the Middle East.

In the very next breath, he came to his real point: the U.S. will not send fighting planes to Israel. He had softened the blow by patting the valiant little country on the back. The promise to assist Israel, in case of attack, was a repetition of what Kennedy and Johnson had promised and thus America had long been pledged to send the Sixth Fleet — if Israel finds itself overwhelmed by enemies.

Mr. Hervert Klein, chief of communications for President Nixon, phoned me in polite pique about a column I had written which stated that as fast as Nixon was crowing about pulling troops out of Vietnam, he was sending fresh replacements. Mr Klein told me that the President didn't think this was "quite a Jim Bishop column," a reference to my friendly attitude toward Mr. Nixon years ago.

Well, what is the truth? Klein said over the phone (in mid-March) that we now have "only 375,000 American troops in Vietnam. The New York Times of April 26th says that there are 425,000 American soldiers in Vietnam. Will Mr. Nixon ask the Times for an apology? I hope so, because they cannot both be right.

Congressman Gerald Ford, who, to my knowledge, has seldom taken to television to say a kind word about anyone, now proposes to impeach Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas as a reprisal to the Democrats for declining the nominations of Judges Haynsworth and Carswell to the Supreme Court bench.

Douglas, good or bad, has been on the Surpeme Court for 31 years and yet Ford brays: "I would vote to impeach him right now." Translation: without hearing or trial.

Democratic Congressman Mendel Rivers, who has a little edge on for the Navy, favors spending as much as $400,000,000 for nuclear aircraft carriers, when he knows in his heart that a nuclear enemy with multiple-entrance war heads could seek out and destroy all surface task forces in a day. Rivers goes along with the admirals, and admirals keep spending more money in the Congressman's home district — Charleston, S.C.

A man like Democratic Congressman Mills presents himself as a watchdog on our treasury when, in effect, what he is really doing is telling the President of the United States that his budget will never get out of Mills' committee unless our Chief Executive truckles to him.

Larry O'Brien now announces that in the absence of first-rate Democratic talent for the Presidency in 1972, he thinks that Teddy Kennedy is the eligible man. If Senator Kennedy had not soiled his reputation at Chappaquiddick Island, I would still not rate him as a Presidential possibility.

Theodore Sorensen, a private individual who aspires to the United States Senate, is a first-class speechwriter, period. He went to Moscow, hoping to come home with a plumb, but the Russians emptied their vodka glasses and chuckled. Arthur Goldberg stands aside coyly until the Democratic Committee of New York State endorses him and then renounces its support.

An honorable man might have told them he didn't need them before they committed themselves. Attorney General Mitchell's wife may be out of order asking Arkansas newspapers to "crucify" Senator Fulbirght, but at least she calls her shots as she sees them.

If you go over the list of U.S. Court of Appeals judges, you will find that one of the most talented is Judge Irving Kaufman of New York. I will offer anyone 10-to-1 that Kaufman's name was not mentioned in the private caucuses between Mitchell and Nixon. Don't take my word for this: ask any bar association what Kaufman's record is like.

In Florida, Nixon picks one man for the U.S. Senate and Governor Claude Kirk promptly forms a rump party to give Senator Spessard Holland's seat to the man the Senate rejected — Judge Carswell. In New Jersey, a Democratic mayor under indictment runs for reelection, and will probably make it. Politicians lie to grand juries about their connections with organized crime. Cornelius Gallagher, of Bayonne, exposed by Life Magazine, wins the endorsement of Democratic chieftains and walks back into office.

Someone long ago was eminently correct when he named the Republicans and Democrats "parties." That's what they excel at...

Anti-Americanism

Editor, The Freeman:

The following letter has been forwarded to CBS Broadcasting Co., Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y.:

On today's "Face the Nation" your men Messrs. Herman and Norton gave a perfect example of hatchet work in their cynical, loaded questions directed to Vice President Spiro Agnew.

The full treatment was there — misquotes, out of text references, and a fully "slanted," interview.

If you can't or won't conduct an objective, impartial interview, why don't you just announce very clearly your attitudes that violence, arson, disregard for law and other peoples rights, and subversive acts and attitudes are desirable and proper; that incitement to riot by convicted criminals, receive your full approval and expansive TV exposure on your broadcasts. Does CBS regard, as Mr. Herman does, law and order as a theory? To me and my kind it is a basic way of life that spells security and respect for the welfare and rights of others.

As a Veteran of World War I and the father of two other veterans, who burnt no draft cards, destroyed no University we attended, flaunted no enemy flags, and who prefer AMERICA and the privilege of living here, to life under Castro, Breznev, et al; say God Bless Vice President Agnew for crying Fire! as our wonderful country is being defiled and degraded by the lawless and cowardly.

I am tired of your efforts to apologize for her radical behavior of the bums who are the result of the permissiveness and anti-Americanism fostered by you and your heroes, Mr. Justice Douglas, Mr. Fullbright, McGovern, Goodell and their ilk, to whom everything the enemy does is acceptable and anything American is reprehensible.

I suppose I am a member of the long-silent, long-suffering majority of decent citizens, and like them am proud of what America fundamentally represents, including the freedom of even such as you to express your venom and urge your country's destruction. Where else would you and your like be allowed to operate? in Russia? in Cuba? North Vietnam? North Korea? East Germany?

I am sending copies of this to several newspapers in the hopes that it may be printed, and in the further hope that readers who share my feelings towards America will join me in a boycott of your sponsors, and so forcefully indicate our abhorrence of your anti-Americanism.

Communications Media

Editor, The Freeman:

Though the Vice-President of the United States is not particularly a favorite comrade of mine, there are certain views about the Press and other News Media that we share in common.

About two weeks ago, over a National Televised program, awards were made to outstanding actors, actresses, directors, etc. of Broadway Plays. The awards for best actor, and best supporting actress went to two members of the cast of "Purlie." Both individuals are Black Americans.

The following day, I scanned various papers including The Freeman for reports of this event. Sorry to say, with exception of scattered remarks by a couple of Syndicated Broadway Columnists, there was no further mention of this most worthy event. However, it was most interesting to note that all papers including The Freeman conspicuously (with picture) reported on Rap Brown's failure to report for his scheduled trial.

At a time when so many whites are heaping abuse on blacks for what they deem to be a lack of desire for achievement, it would appear that the two Cast members of "Purlie" were more newsworthy than Rap Brown. Evidently, such was not true. Is there any question as to why Black Americans have doubts about the sincerity of the Communications media?

Sincerely yours,
HUMPHREY B. JONES

Lefkowitz' Policy

Editor, The Freeman:

A recent letter in your paper from Benson Krom referred to a campaign promise by a Democratic candidate for Attorney General that he would not approve any public construction contract unless the anti-discrimination laws were observed.

As a matter of public record, it should be noted that it has been the consistent policy of Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz to require that every public contract that is referred to his office must contain anti-discrimination clauses binding the parties to the contract and requiring that the contractor takes affirmative action to insure that applicants for employment are afforded equal opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Whenever any evidence of discrimination has been referred to the Attorney General, whether involving public or private contracts, he has filed complaints against the parties responsible for such discrimination.

Sincerely yours,
LOUIS J. LEFKOWITZ

Professional Assessors

Editor, The Freeman

State and county governments are stirring toward appointment of professional assessors to supplement or replace locally elected ones. This, they say, will introduce a greater measure of justice into the taxation of property.

As we ponder the implications, we may note that property values are not rigid. They depend on many variable factors not ordinarily considered by assessors. These include condition of foundations, water supplies, heating systems, septic systems, plumbing, wiring, roofs and termites in the timbers. Each of these, as well as quality of paint, market outlook and general economic climate has a bearing on value.

For obvious reasons, it isn't possible to determine the conditions of all these, in every instance. Equally obvious, should be the fact that, without such determination, assessors can't establish values, accurately. Therefore, whether the guessing is done by professional, state, county or local assessors, fair taxation of property will never be accomplished.

Many years of fiddling, by "experts", have resulted in taxation of everything we can think of—including our taxes and, indirectly, the sun's rays and the air we breathe. Out of all this, the mental giants who direct our destinies should be able to find solutions to problems of state and county finance (including public schools and highway maintenance) that would not involve inequitable blackmail of those who create or acquire something of value in the form of a building.

If tax justice is ever to be established, property tax will be limited to payment for services provided by local governments to the owners of property, and will be purely a local matter.

In theory, our government is designed in such manner that injustice may be corrected by directing attention of our representatives to its existence. — (?)—Let's hope they may be inspired to correct this one without waiting for someone to jump up and down on official cars, break windows or throw fire bombs.

Emigration to Israel

Editor, The Freeman:

This week millions of Jews throughout the world celebrate Passover, the festival of freedom commemorating the Exodus of the Israelites from Ancient Egypt.

There is a new demand for exodus this year. Hundreds of Jews inside the Soviet Union have written letters to the United Nations and to world opinion asking for the right, denied them, to emigrate, to Israel. Thousands of Jews have filed for emigration.

Many have stated that they have found it impossible to live as Jews in the Soviet Union, where all Jewish education is forbidden, and they want to emigrate to Israel where they can live as Jews.

Typical of the letters reaching the West, is one from Mrs. Rozalia Plotkina of Moscow, who states, "life in the USSR has become unbearable for me . . . the only way out of my plight is my departure for my home land, Israel." Boris Kochubiyevsky, a 33 year old Jewish engineer from Kiev, wrote, "I am a Jew. I want to live in a Jewish state. . . . I am not asking for mercy. Listen to the voice of reason: LET ME OUT! . . . As long as I live, as long as I am capable of feeling, I will do all I can to be able to leave for Israel. And if you find it possible to sentence me for it, then all the same. If I live till my release, I will be prepared to go to the homeland of my ancestors, even if it means going on foot."

We of the Upstate Council of Youth for Soviet Jewry demand that the Soviet government open its doors and allow all Jews who wish, the right to emigrate.

Sincerely;
BRACHA KING,
Eastern Cordinator

First of Its Kind

Oil Firm Indicted for Its Spill

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — In the first action of its kind, a federal grand jury has indicted a major oil company on charges arising from a massive offshore oil spill.

The Chevron Oil Co. was cited Tuesday on 900 counts of willfully violating government regulations aimed at preventing pollution from oil wells drilled at sea.

Conviction on all counts could result in fines totaling $1.8 million.

In Washington, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who had asked for the grand jury probe of Chevron's offshore operations, said enforcement of federal oil well safety rules is going to be strict.

"We will be fair but we will be tough," said Hickel. "The future of our environment is at stake in those offshore areas which are precious for many other resources besides oil and gas."

The grand jury said Chevron knowingly and willfully failed to install and maintain storm chokes or similar subsurface control devices on 90 oil wells off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

"We are confident that when the case is tried, we will be completely vindicated," said K. H. Shaffer of New Orleans, president of Chevron.

The company is owned by Standard Oil of California, one of the nation's biggest oil firms.

The indictment stemmed from an investigation which began March 31—the day Chevron finally capped the last of a cluster of wild wells connected to a platform standing in 40 feet of water, 30 miles off the coast. The area is about 75 miles southeast of New Orleans.

A fire had erupted on the platform Feb. 10, touching off a gush of oil and gas which burned until the flames were snuffed out by a dynamite blast March 10. For the next 21 days, the oil spewed into the Gulf while specialists struggled to tame the wells.

Indictments against Chevron were the first under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act of 1953, which provides a maximum $2,000 fine for each day of each violation.

The hearing examiner approved a request by Central Hudson to submit its testimony in written form rather than present it orally. After the utility's testimony was subhitted to the commission, copies of the testimony were distributed to all interested persons present.

The examiner adjourned the hearing until June 17, with the understanding that all Central Hudson witnesses would be available on that date for cross examination.

The hearing was held in the Dutchess County Office Building in Poughkeepsie. The June 17 meeting will be held in the offices of the Public Service Commission in Albany.

Protest War

MALMO, Sweden (UPI)—Anti-American demonstrators chanting "U.S. out of Cambodia" swarmed around the automobile of U.S. Ambassador Jerome H. Holland on his visit Tuesday to Southern Sweden.

Police arrested four protesters outside Holland's hotel in Malmo later in the day. More than 1,000 youths marched through Stockholm to protest U.S. intervention in Cambodia.

Federal Court Clears Man Arrested on Firearms Sale

NEW YORK CITY

Edward Ocker Jr., of Shandaken, arrested Oct. 23, 1969 and charged with the sale of a firearm without a federal license, was found innocent of the charge following a three day jury trial in Federal Court, Foley Square, New York City, Tuesday.

Considered a test case, the first since the law requiring a federal license was enacted in 1968, the trial brought out the fact that Ocker had a New York State license and considered firearms as a hobby rather than a business.

Ulster County Sheriff William B. Martin testified at the trial at which Judge J. J. Bryan presided. John Kellerher was prosecuting attorney and Edward Cunningham of New York City was attorney for the defense.

When our hearts mourn sincerely,
For grief often dwells,
Where it seldom is seen.

Mancuso forwarded his committee's recommendations to the Laws and Rules Committee which is also working on the legislation.

The meeting was recessed in order to act on the Metropolitan Life Insurance proposal, immediately after the public hearing on the 19th.

An Impasse in Saugerties

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

SAUGERTIES — Contract negotiations for village patrolmen between Teamsters Local 445 and the Village Board have reached an impasse and the matter will be turned over to the State Public Employment Relations Board PERB for mediation by an appointed fact-finder.

The Village Board agreed to turn negotiations over to PERB a Monday night's Village Board meeting.

The matters in disagreement are salaries, and non-contributory family hospital plan and full retirement arrangement.

Attoreny G. Thomas Rea Jr. addressed the board in behalf of the village patrolmen and asked the board to consider three of the vital requests of the total discussed under collective bargaining negotiations.

The patrolmen requested a starting salary of $5,400 with increments in six and 12 months to a top salary of $6,700 in the first year. The second year would start at $5,700 with the same increments to a top salary of $8,700 in the second year of the contract.

Mayor Cornelious Cox said that in accordance with the Taylor Law governing collective bargaining, proposals were not to be made public, but as the police have announced their demands, the mayor gave the village counter proposal: The first year $5,400 with the same increments to a top of $6,200 and the second year, a starting salary of $5,600 with the same increments to $6,800.

The current starting salary for patrolmen is $5,000 to a top of $5,900. The mayor explained that the village proposal would result in a 13 month pay increase from $600 to $800.

Mayor Cox also pointed out that all village employes would have to be increased under the plan. He noted that money has been budgeted for a hospital plan for all village employes. This does not include their families. He said at the present the village will continue to pay one half toward retirement. Going into a full retirement plan would cost the village $26,000 annually, the mayor observed.

The mayor said the Village Board feels it is trying to improve condition for all village employes and realizes that the police and all village employes are underpaid, but the board is trying to operate village government within the means of village residents.

The Village Board granted permission for holding the Mum Festival for a two-week period in October at Seamon Park following a presentation by the committee. Thomas R. Beckert was the spokesman. He said the first week Oct. 11 would be the music portion and the possible crowning of a mum queen and the second week would be used for the display of art work.

In regard to a request at a previous meeting, the board adopted a resolution which set $100,000 as the assessed value for the proposed $800,000 senior citizen apartment complex to be constructed on Main Street at Washington Avenue. The annual assessment figure would remain the same for 40 years. This would be about a 75 per cent tax abatement for the non-profit complex.

The board set a public hearing Monday, May 25 at 8 p.m. in the village clerk's office to hear a request for a zoning classification change from U1 residential to U2 apartment house on a tract of land to the north of Finger Street properties extending from Malden Avenue to land owned by the estate of Henry Knaust. The request was made by Wellington Hunter.

The board agreed to accept three parcels of county land on Partition Street, where the village last year demolished abandoned buildings. County Legislator Clifford Snyder made the request to offer a reesolution on the matter at the next meeting of the County Legislature.

Village Clerk James Gage announced that James J. Dargan Inc., local Dodge-Plymouth dealer was awarded a $2,749 contract to supply a Dodge Polara police vehicle. There were three bids received.

Trustee Maurice Clements, street commissioner reported that 144 truck loads of debris has already been removed in the spring village cleanup drive. He also reported that extra trees are available in the village tree bank and residents may contact Village Clerk Gage if they would like to have one.

6th Billionth Hamburger Sold

KINGSTON

The six billionth McDonald's hamburger has just been served by the national restaurant chain, reports Edward Garzarell, who operates the McDonald's restaurant at 555 Albany Avenue in Kingston. "That's enough to measure 56 and one-fifth round trip flights from Chicago to London.

"If they had been served in Kingston, nobody would have had time to eat anything else," he said. And if one person tried to eat them all, it would take 60,000 years — eating one every five minutes.

As it happens, it took McDonald's 15 years — since the chain was founded in 1955—to sell those six billion burgers. And the chain now numbers more than 1,300 outlets in the U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico. McDonald's figures almost everybody in the United States helped eat the 6 billion.

It averages out to 30 burgers for everybody in the U.S. and one and one-half hamburgers for everyone in the world.

Non-Public Education Future: Critical Consideration Is Near

Editor's Note: Beginning next year, parochial and other private schools are to receive $28 million in assistance. This two-part series will discuss non-public education.

By BRUCE B. DETLEFSEN
AP Education Writer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The fine line that New York officials have drawn thus far in aiding non-public schools is leading inevitably toward a point at which the state will be confronted with a new dimension in its educational dilemma.

Beginning next year, parochial and other private schools are to receive $28 million in assistance based solely on how many pupils they enroll.

But this approach does not reflect what many educators see as a critical consideration: the fact that non-public schools often are as different from one another as are public schools.

This is especially the case in inner-city schools, where special social problems crop up from neighborhood to neighborhood.

Moreover, the pressures in the ghetto demand different services for children and parents there than in other parts of a city or the suburbs or rural areas.

Thus, a question now coming to the fore is whether the state should underwrite more heavily the costs incurred by non-public schools tha are willing to work with disadvantaged children or to make ghetto education what ultimately could be a responsibility for public schools only.

If the answer is to strike a balance—that is, maintain a dual system already in existence—then government is back in the middle of the church-state quandary complicated by other factors.

At issue, inevitably, will be the strong presence of Roman Catholic education in the state's cities. About 60 per cent of the children who attend Catholic elementary and secondary schools in New York are enrolled in the "Big Six" cities.

And, to a larger degree, these parochial schools are taking in youngsters from poor white and Negro and Puerto Rican families that are non-Catholic.

It is not uncommon for inner-city parochial schools to have 50 per cent or more of their pupils come at the parents' request from families that do not attend a parish church, and therefore do not help support the school through Sunday collections, and that cannot pay more than small tuitions.

"We're not out recruiting," says one diocesan official. But, he adds, many parents want for different reasons to give their children a non-public education.

In many cases, the explanation for such a decision is the discipline the parents consider to be implicit in parochial training.

There also is, according to one official, a feeling in some families that their whole lives as welfare recipients are too tied to governmental intervention and they "opt out of the box" in favor of a private school.

In the past, New York's Catholic school superintendents, faced with what they regard as a financial crisis due in part to support inner-city schools, have asked the Board of Regents to help them be included in the state's $5[illegible]-million program of categorical urban aid.

Since Catholic education is more committed proportionately to urban schools than is public education, they have said, it is "unreasonable and discriminatory on the part of the state to restrict children who meet the qualifications for state assistance from participation by reason of the school they attend."

Their appeal has been unsuccessful.

Last month, Gov. Rockefeller proposed and the legislature approved a $28-million program of state assisance to all non-public schools based on the "services" they are required to perform in such areas as testing and record-keeping.

But the larger schools will benefit more than the smaller ones, while inner-city parochial schools tend to have fewer pupils.

Thus, the relief that had been hoped for in meeting deficits will — if it is to come at all — have to be based on a yet-to-be-devised approach.

Tomorrow: A significant breakthrough could be on the horizon.

Mental Health Dinner Tonight, Student Panel to Be Featured

WEST HURLEY

With resevations over the hundred mark, the annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, tonight at Oehler's Mountain Lodge, West Hurley, promises to be one of the best attended. The evening will feature a panel with three students and a faculty member discussing the program and what it has meant to them individually.

For some of the 30 students enrolled in the initial semester, it has opened up an entirely new field for careers — teaching emotionally handicapped or disturbed children, occupational and recreational therapy; while for other students who will become teachers in regular programs or enter other professions, it will mean a groundwork of understanding in such things as the importance of voluntary social service agencies, the importance of the partnership of governmental and voluntary organizations; and most important of all, sensitivity to the needs of less fortunate members of our society.

Students and the seven agencies in which they are working are enthusiastic over the success of the pilot program. There still remains to be worked out the basis for funding to continue the program which is proving to be a challenging task for the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, involving negotiations at top levels with the State Departments of Mental Hygiene and Education.

Students on the panel will be Ken Fried of Flushing, Charlotte Bohmfalk of Rye and Robert Gibney of Bayside. The faculty member will be Roger LaMora, instructor in education.

The Association business will include the presentation of the printed annual report and election of new directors. There will be a short board meeting at the close of the general program, for the purpose of the election of officers for the coming year. All board members are urged to attend.

The dinner will commence at 7 o'clock and will be preceded by a social hour from 6 p.m.

Open House Slated At the Slabsides

WEST PARK

Slabsides, the woodland cabin built by naturalist John Burroughs at West Park, will be open to the public on Saturday, May 23.

There will be a program of talks starting 11 a.m. and visitors are invited to come with a picnic lunch and participate in the nature walk in the early afternoon. To reach Slabsides participants will turn west from 9W at West Park and follow Floyd Ackert Road to the top of the hill, a half-mile from the railroad tracks to Burroughs Drive, park here and walk to the cabin. Slabsides will be open May 23 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., rain or shine.

POSTER WINNERS — Sister Anita Rosaire, Seventh Grade teacher in St. Mary's School, Saugerties presents awards to winners of the recent anti-smoking poster contest held at the school in conjunction with a program presented by Fred J. Weber, anti-smoking crusader. The winners (L-R) are Marie Melick, Seventh Grade, first; Angela Trees, also Seventh Grade, second and Lisa Eckerlein, Sixth Grade, third. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Assembly on Anti-Smoking

SAUGERTIES

Anti-Smoking Crusader Fred J. Weber, of Woodridge, N. J., and volunteer worker for the American Temperance Society presented an assembly program recently at St. Mary of the Snow School.

Awards were presented for the anti-smoking poster contest sponsored by Weber. First prize was a $17 Jerusalem Bible, which was won by Marie Melick, Seventh Grade. Angela Trees, also of the Seventh Grade was second and Lisa Eckerlein, Sixth Grade was third. More than 100 posters were submitted from the elementary grades.

The contest was announced during a program conducted by Weber on smoking and drugs. The film One in 20,000, was shown. Also shown was a film Drug Addiction.

In his lecture, Weber told of a 14-year-old California girl who went without food for two days, causing her father to end a 25-year addiction to cigarettes. Weber began his crusade more than 12 years ago and has spoken to more than 100,000 people on the subject, mostly high school students. Weber has done intensive research recently on marijuana. He claims that every teenager who smokes tobacco, is a sure candidate for the use of marijuana. He strongly advocates the death penalty for non-addicted herion pushers and the compulsory confinement of all heroin addicts for a minimum of two years.

Rock Festival--- Task Force Topic

BLUE MOUNTAIN

The impact of "Rock Festivals" were discussed at the third Meeting of the Community Task Force for Equal Educational Opportunity held recently, in the Grant D. Morse Elementary School.

Mrs. Marilyn Putnam reviewed with the group several brochures which outlined descriptive activities and guidelines suggested for and as experienced by similar Task Forces in other sections of the state.

It was decided that at least a portion of the next meeting would be devoted to further consideration of this material in an effort to help determine the focus of the Force's efforts.

A good portion of the evening's discussion was concerned with the impact and possible ill effects of the "Rock Festival" types of gatherings which have been held in the Saugerties Township, and future assemblies presently being contemplated. It was felt by the members of the Task Force present that every effort should be made by individuals, and by the group as a unit, to endeavor to persuade the Town Board to enact legislation controlling large public assemblies, thereby protecting the health and well-being of participants and residents. It is understood that other groups plan to attend the May 14 meeting of the Town Board for a similar purpose, and a large turnout can be expected.

The next meeting of the Task Force is scheduled for Monday, May 25, at 7:30 p. m., in the Junior-Senior High School.

Mother's Day Event Slated At West Camp

WEST CAMP

Mother's Day, this Sunday will have a special place in the 260th anniversary observance of St. Paul's Lutheran Church West Camp with the scheduling of two events.

The 150 youthful voices of Singout Saugerties, a young people's group which more than emulates Up With People of nationwide fame, will present a concert on the church lawn at 4 p.m.

Everyone is invited to this feature anniversary event.

In honor of Mother's Day and the culmination of Christian Family Week, a combined Sunday school and worship service of the church will be held an hour earlier at 10 a.m.

A family message will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Alvin F. Massersmith and music for the occasion will be offered. Members of the TICS, Teens in Christian Service will serve refreshments to the Singout Saugerties group following the afternoon concert.

The TICS are currently conducting a newspaper and magazine collection drive to raise funds for the sponsorship of this event. Those who have newspapers or magazines for pickup may call any of these young people in the following communities: Moon, Malden-on-Hudson; Wynne, West Camp; Winnie, Barclay Heights; Wilhelm, Asbury; Brockway, Cementon; Hallenbeck, Catskill; Liesendahl, West Camp and Knaust, Saugerties.

The Mother's Day observance is one of a series of events scheduled by the church to mark its 260th anniversary. The historic West Camp Church was founded by the Palatine refugees in October 1710.

Mother, Daughter Dinner For 260th Anniversary

WEST CAMP

The dinner will be held in the parish hall at 6 p.m. on Thursday, May 14. Mothers and daughters of the church and friends of the congregation are invited. Virginia baked ham will be served.

Prendergast is in charge of arrangements. There will be no dinners available without reservations and no tickets will be sold at the door.

RUTH McGEENEY

The program of entertainment will include Ruth McGeeney, Miss Ulster County of 1970, who will will speak about the pageant and will also sing with her guitar.

Ladies and young people of the congregation will present a show of wedding gowns worn throughout the year at nuptials in the church.

Mrs. Joseph Dongler, a member of the anniversary committee is in charge of the program.

Narcotics Abuse Outlined

SAUGERTIES

Narcotics Investigator Thomas Mayone gave members a quick course about current drug abuse by students at a recent Saugerties Teachers Association meeting.

The Saugerties resident said that he feels the present wave of drug abuse stems in a large part from the fact that youngsters from infancy onward have grown up in a society in which pill-taking and alcoholic beverage consumption to relieve stress and strain are commonplace.

In his talk the DA's investigator touched on an even dozen forms of youthful drug abuse.

He stressed the rapid change in beliefs about whom to try to reach with a preventive education program, stating that two years ago he believed junior high school was the area in which to concentrate, but that the passage of time has led him to believe that the intermediate grades (5 and 6) are the places best suited now to begin preventive education.

Mayone stressed the need for the involvement of all types of agencies in the fight.

News Executive at Danbury

Work Release Magic for Inmates

EDITOR'S NOTE: Eugene J. Brown, author of the following article, spent 10 days talking and mixing with inmates in the federal prison at Danbury, Conn. Brown, president of the Ottaway News Service and former publisher of the Danbury News-Times, sought to learn first hand about life and reform efforts in a prison.

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — "Lock 'em up and throw away the key!" is the harsh philosophy of many an otherwise tolerant citizen towards the man who commits a crime.

But it's not the philosophy of the Federal Bureau of Prisons or of wardens like Frank Kenton, head of the federal prison here, who believe in reform and rehabilitation.

But if "rehabilitation" is the reformers' answer, many prisoners consider it a "dirty" word. They would prefer to do their rehabilitation in their own way in their own time—on the outside.

For the first few days of my 10-day stay I was regarded as a complaint spy for the warden, and was deluged with complaints such as:

"I have been framed."

"The D.A. conned me into the wrong plea."

"Now I'm rehabilitated the warden keeps me in prison out of spite."

"The food is lousy." (I found the food varied and acceptable.)

"I'm going to write to my congressman about this jail."

All inmates, except those in special detention, have free run of the open compound, can watch television in the lounges, play ball, lift weights, watch the bocce players, look at movies, read newspapers, buy $20 worth of goods a month at the prison store, and socialize with other prisoners. They are of course, obligated to do daily work in one of the numerous prison industries or service units. It wouldn't be a bad life—on the outside.

A major problem here, as in all prisons, is homosexuality. Prison officials say little can be done about it except to keep homosexuals away from each other, when possible.

Many inmates complain about being kept from women for long periods of time. "How do you expect us to be rehabilitated when we can't act like men?" is an oft-stated question, and one for which prison officials have no answer.

Work Release

The phrase "work release" is a magic one for Danbury's inmates, even though only one in 15 prisoners can meet the rigid requirements.

The work release program permits a qualified prisoner to work on the outside during the day and return to prison at night. This "second chance" program is available in the last six months of an inmate's sentence. One requirement is that half the inmate's salary goes to his family, and $2 a day to the prison for lodging.

To help insure the program's success, Warden Kenton has enlisted the cooperation of local employers, city officials, civic clubs, church groups and labor unions. Their role is to develop in the community a favorable attitude toward the released prisoners.

The Danbury institution's work release program has an excellent success record among federal prisons. At any one time about 50 inmates are participating in the program and over the course of a year only a few attempt to escape.

The question arises, why are only 50 out of 700 inmates being given this second chance. The answer: eliminate the drug addicts (about half of the 700), the sexual deviates, alcoholics, those convicted of violent crimes and those on "detainer" —wanted by other authorities—and the eligible list narrows considerably.

Special Treatment for Addicts

Drug addicts who commit a crime are sentenced to Danbury under NARA (Narcotics Addiction Rehabilitation Act). They are sent to Danbury for professional treatment: group therapy sessions, psychiatric counseling, and treatment with a medication called methadone. They are there with the prospect of an early parole.

The parole applicant makes his plea at a casual hearing. He is accompanied by his case workers and psychiatrists. The discussion usually centers around his degree of rehabilitation and his determination to stay off drugs on the outside. He is told that if paroled he will be required to undergo weekly urine tests. The tests show the existence of drugs in the body.

BOCES Implements Workshops

NEW PALTZ — George Fernandez, Ulster BOCES Assistant Superintendent, directing the activities of the Instructional Resources and Assistance Center announced that a special inservice education workshop series for the school districts of Ellenville, Onteora, and Rondout Valley began.

In the one session which took place at the Marbletown Elementary School of the Rondout Valley Central District, last month, sixteen teachers were present to find out about "Coping With Behavioral Problems" from Dr. Robert Presbie from the Psychology Department at SUNY, New Paltz. Dr. Presbie was scheduled to meet with this group today and once again on May 13.

The sessions on "Coping With Behavioral Problems" are an abbreviated version of the series that 's taking place at the BOCES Center in New Paltz. The purpose of this series of three meetings is to enable teachers to investigate a systematic method of coping with behavioral problems in the classroom (operant conditioning). The initial discussions will focus on techniques that psychology can offer education — now!!! In the follow-up meetings, specific classroom behavioral problems which are of concern to workshop participants will be analyzed and a plan of action will be offered. At times, a seminar format will be utilized in order to work more closely with those participants who might be interested in implementing this approach.

In addition, the workshop entitled "Diagnosing Reading Achievement" with Mrs. Freida Dingie, Director of the Multi-Media Center in Kingston as consultant, will take place in the West Hurley Elementary School of the Onteora Central District, from 4:15 to 6:15 on May 20 and another workshop entitled "An Introduction to Computers" with Mr. Richard Oliphant from SUNY, Albany, as consultant, will take place in the Ellenville Secondary School of the Ellenville Central District, from 4:15 to 6:15 p.m. on May 27.

Fernandez pointed out that the BOCES program of Inservice Education is one of the many instructional improvement services provided by the Instructional Resources and Assistance Center. For additional information regarding these workshops you many contact Leon Greenberg, Coordinator of Inservice Education at Ulster County BOCES.

LEGION DONATION — The Ulster County Young Marine Unit is working on a plan to organize a Drum Platoon which, it is hoped, will comprise 15 boys. Kingston Post 150, American Legion is doing its part in getting the group off to a good start, and Senior Vice Commander John C. Kuehn (R) is shown presenting a field drum to Young Marine Charles McCullough (C). Louis Marello Jr., of the young marine group, looks on as the presentation is made. "It is a distinct pleasure for Kingston Post, American Legion to assist this fine group," Kuehn said, "and we hope this drum will be of use to these boys." John Ray Mayone, executive officer of the unit, noted that the planned drum platoon will not be ready for the 1970 parade season, but it should be ready for appearances with the Young Marines next year. HEART PRINCIPALS — Principals at annual Heart dinner were (L) Franklin Kelder, chairman of the fund advisory committee; Dr. Alfred M. Feldshuh, president; Keith Krewson, guest speaker and Deweese W. DeWitt, member of board of directors of the New York State Heart Assembly.

Election, Awards Dinner

Largest Heart Yield Expected

GHENT

The well-attended annual membership dinner of the Mid-Hudson Heart Association held at Kozel's in Ghent, New York on Sunday, May 3, also was the occasion for the distribution of a number of awards and the reelection of board members for a three-year period.

Dr. Alfred M. Feldshuh, president of the Association who presided, noted with satisfaction that by the end of June, 1970, the 1970 Heart Fund Campaign will see an increase of $6,300 over last year, with the grand total of approximately $66,000 comprisong the largest sum ever raised by the Mid-Hudson Heart Association.

"This," Dr. Feldshuh reminded his audience, "is due to the hard work of all volunteers and every volunteer can take pride in this most successful Heart Fund Campaign on record."

Keith Krewson, the guest speaker, corporate director of Personnel and community Relations for the Foxboro Company of Foxboro, Mass., gave a talk illustrating it with slides. Krewson emphasized the necessity of total communication and illustrated his concepts with examples of preconceived ideas blotting out visual facts.

The following persons were relected to serve a three year term on the Board of Directors: Mrs. Gloria Buckley, R.N., Mrs. William Metzler, Mrs. James Stanislaw, all of Greene County; Mrs. Ruth Buchholz, R.N., the Rev. C. Wesley Christman Jr., Mrs. Ira Kring and Mrs. Harry Warner, all of Columbia County; Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, Dr. Alfred M. Feldshuh, Dr. David S. Gerbarg, Mrs. David S. Hildebrandt, R.N., Dr. John A. Olivet, Mrs. McLean Reynolds and Dr. Jeremiah Sachs, of Ulster County.

Franklin S. Kelder, Chairman of the Heart Fund Advisory Committee, presented awards and certificates to Board Members, volunteers and media, all of whom contributed so generously to the Heart Association in a variety of ways.

Mrs. Ruth Buchholz, R.N., and Mrs. Harry Warner, both of Columbia County, were chairman for the dinner.

The Rev. C. Wesley Christman Jr., chairman of the board, gave the benediction.

Ahavath Israel Plans Rite

KINGSTON

Fourth anniversary services will be held at Congregation Ahavath Israel, 100 Lucas Avenue, Friday 8 p.m. in commemoration of the dedication of the building.

Instead of the annual dinner and dance that was held every year, it was decided that due to the troubled times of today, the dedication of a synagogue would be more appropriate if it were held in prayer and dedicatory mood. Rabbi Harry Z. Schectman will offer special prayers, and speak on the purpose of the synagogue today. Cantor David Katchen will chant appropriate liturgic compositions. A collection will be held after the services at the Oneg Shabbat.

In order to explain the change in the usual plans for this occasion, the following invitation was sent to all the members of the congregation:

"You are cordially invited to attend a re-dedication affair to celebrate the 4th anniversary of the dedication of our new building, which will take place Friday evening, May 8, at 8 p.m., at a special Friday Evening Service. Instead of the annual dinner and dance, we decided that in the presence of the dangers and problems facing our country, our people and mankind, it would be more propitious to celebrate the establishment of a House of God with a prayer service and dedication lesson. The service will be followed by an Oneg Shabbat collation. Please be present to celebrate and pray with us."

Better health and higher morals are the aim of the classes according to the Rev. Gilbert J. Foster, pastor, who will conduct the sessions.

There will be free literature provided by the Ulster County Health Department and county public health nurses will be available if the interest is great enough. The general public may attend and there will be no fees or charges of any kind.

The Rondout Baby Sitting Service is aiding in the promotion of this community service project.

Glenn Loses Bid in Ohio

Primary Voting...Some Surprises

HAPPY JOHN GLENN . . . BEFORE THE RESULTS (UPI Telephoto)

By United Press International

Alabama's voters will have to go to the polls again next month to pass on George C. Wallace's political future. Ohio's voters gave a slim lead to U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., and chose a Cleveland millionaire over former astronaut John Glenn in picking the lineup for November's Senate race.

The Alabama and Ohio races topped a round of primary elections Tuesday which also saw Indiana's 11 incumbent congressmen nominated to stand for reelection in the fall.

Taft, held the lead over Ohio's two-term Gov. James A. Rhodes in a battle to represent the Republican party for the seat Taft's father once held for 18 years.

On the Democratic side, wealthy attorney Howard Metzenbaum came from behind to edge space hero Glenn. The seat is currently held by Sen. Stephen M. Young, a Democrat, who is retiring.

Ohio's gubernatorial lineup in the fall election will be state auditor Roger Cloud for the Republicans, and former Rep. John J. Gilligan for the Democrats.

Alabama's seven-way race to pick a Democratic candidate for governor would wind up with no one candidate getting enough votes. The leading candidates turned out to be Wallace, the former governor and 1969 third party presidential candidate, and the current governor, Albert Brewer.

Brewer showed enough strength to indicate that Wallace will have a tough time when the runoff is held June 2. For Wallace, more is at stake than a term in the governor's seat. He has been counting on the governorship as a base from which to keep his presidential ambitions alive.

A lack of statewide races produced a light voter turnout in Indiana where Democratic Rep. Ray J. Madden of Gary, dean of the Hoosier congressional delegation, bested six opponents, two of them black.

Also renominated were Republican Reps. Earl Landgrebe, Richard Roudebush, William Bray, Roger Zion and David Dennis and Democratic Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr. without opposition were Republicans Reps. E. Ross Adair and John Myers and Democratic Reps. John Brademas and Lee Hamilton.

Goldberg in Appeal For Liberal Support

NEW YORK (AP) — Calling for the re-establishment of the "Democratic-Liberal coalition in New York State," Arthur J. Goldberg, a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, has appealed to the Liberal Party for its support.

Goldberg, who has been endorsed by his party's state committee, Tuesday asked Liberal Party Chairman Dr. Donald S. Harrington for his party's support in order to defeat Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"I'm convinced that it is important for victory and for vindication of a shared, deeply held principles to re-establish the Democratic-Liberal tradition in New York State. For the results of the coming election will not only be vital for the New York State, but will also have a major impact on national policy," he said.

Harrington, designated as his party's gubernatorial candidate on a "wait-and-see" basis, said he would not retire in favor of Goldberg unless the latter demonstrates he is "really independent of the old-line Democratic machine."

Goldberg pledged "an independent administration."

Robert M. Morgenthau, another Democratic gubernatorial candidate, announced he has obtained enough signatures to get his name on the primary ballot.

Morgenthau said it cost $15.000 to $20,000 to collect 30,000 signatures from throughout the state for his petition, plus "a lot of sweat and some blood." He referred to an upstate assault on one of his solicitors, Gary Ormiston, he said.

The third Democratic candidate is upstate industrialist Howard Samuels.

Drug War A Failure Says Rocky

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Governor Rockefeller has admitted that after four years and $250 million, the state war on drug traffic he pioneered has all but failed in New York.

Rockefeller bluntly told a group of ministers Tuesday that drug addiction and its allied problems such as corruption in police agencies "is a God damn serious situation" that can't be solved by state government alone.

"We thought we had a good answer," Rockefeller told the interfaith convocation on drug abuse that he had called. "After four years we have to admit we have not achieved success even though we have given everything we can to solve the problem."

Thus, Rockefeller admitted what his critics, including many Democrats in the legislature, have charged for two years: the Narcotics Addiction Control Commission has not carried out the governor's 1966 campaign pledge to free the streets of drug addicts.

"You hate to admit you've failed when you've tried so hard," the governor said. "There isn't a method of treatment, there isn't an approach that hasn't been tried."

"The taxpayers are not going to like my saying this, but we already spent $250 million and committed another $250 million," he said. "We have 12,000 people under treatment, but that's only a fraction of the problem."

"I accept any criticism, all we can say is we care and we are trying to do the right thing, but we as a state cannot do it ourselves. Only a total war in the community will help," Rockefeller said.

The governor said police corruption was one of the major problems faced in the war on drugs. He told the story of how three years ago he directed a special state police task force to go to New York City to combat drug traffic and look into charges of police corruption.

"We had great success," he said. "There were shakeups in local police. Some were fired, and even the federal agents there, who had been paid off, got jumpy and some were fired and others transferred."

"But then after a while we found out that the head of our own unit, a bright, young, Bureau of Criminal Intelligence officer, and three of his best men had been hooked," Rockefeller said. "It's a God damn serious situation, excuse me for using that language but I feel terrible about it."

NEW DAY CARE CENTER — Children at the new Head Start Day Care Center at Overlook United Methodist Church, Woodstock, have sudsy time at soap painting as part of creative play activity. There are three Day Care Centers in Ulster County now under the direction of the local Community Action Committee and plans are being made for a fourth. New centers were opened recently at Woodstock and at the Shiloh Baptist Church, Ellenville. Kingston is served by the Rondout Day Care Center at Grove Street. Another will be opened in the city soon. Local Government Project Completed by Fifth Grade

WOODSTOCK

Fifth grade social studies classes at Woodstock Elementary School have just completed a project on "Local Government" that proved highly successful.

To give students a type of exposure to the workings of local government that would be more in depth than in former years, teacher Mrs. Fred Stern arranged a series of visitations to the school each morning for a week. Social studies students in her two fifth grade classes, along with those in the class taught by Frank Hancock, met daily for a 40 minute period each morning with various local officials.

Beginning with a visit and question and answer period with Woodstock Superviso Milton Houst, the students also heard Town Clerk Marjorie Harder, Chief Constable William Waterous, Planning Board member Malcolm Rose, Woodstock Legislator William West, and County Attorney Abram Molyneaux, a former Woodstock supervisor.

During the week, many of the members of the three classes attended a meeting of the local Town Board, both to observe local government in action, and to see some of those who had talked with them participating in the actual work of running Woodstock.

Officials at the school were pleased with the results of the local government project: said attendance at the Town Board meeting had been high for a school night, and that students had asked many interesting questions of their political guests.

Some 75 fifth graders in three classes participated in the project, and school officials feel they were able to get a feeling of their own involvement in local government matters through weeklong, continuous exposure to visiting town and county officials, followed up by an actual visit themselves to a Town Board meeting during a regular monthly session.

The class is open to any person 14 years of age or older. A total of 10 class hours of instruction are required for satisfactory completion of the course. Nursery School Registration; To Open in Fall

WOODSTOCK

The Overlook Pre-School Center is accepting registrations for its Nursery School for three and four year olds, which will begin operations in September.

Classes will be held daily at the Overlook Methodist Church on the Bearsville Road. Interested parents may contact Mrs. Roy Irving of Marko Grove, or Michael Boyle of Bearsville.

Drug Study Canceled

Due to the apathy and lack of support by adult members of the community, the narcotics seminars scheduled Thursday evenings by the Adult Education Department of the Kingston City School Consolidated have been canceled.

Narcotics Abuse Program Planned

WOODSTOCK

Wednesday, May 13 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Onteora Central Junior-Senior High School in Boiceville, there will be a valuable and informative meeting on narcotics abuse.

Charles R. Schroeder, assistant high school principal at Onteora, said "This program would not only be interesting, but what is more important, every effort has been made to bring 'most' information and advice to parents on the problem of narcotics abuse. Schroeder pointed out that there will be five panelists, who have worked with the narcotics problem in a wide variety of ways and they will each be allotted time to address the interested adults on the central theme, "What Should Parents Know and Do About Narcotics Abuse?"

On the guest list for the evening, are Luther Burns of the New York State Narcotics Addiction Center; Dr. Norman Burg, chairman of the Woodstock Narcotics Guidance Council; Russell Winstead, school programs director for the National Council for the Prevention of Drug Abuse. Additionally a panelist has been promised for the evening by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs and this speaker will be joined by Joseph Cabibbo who is in charge of Onteora's High School Health Program.

Schroeder pointed out, that each panelist will not only give a short address, but that individual questions from the audience will be encouraged and answered. He said, "It is our hope to make this program as valuable to parents as possible but in order to do this we not only need the parents in attendance but they should come ready and willing to ask questions."

Possible New Trends for Traditional Mother's Day

Of Many Things

by

DOROTHY A. NAREL

Dear Mom:

Mother's Day is coming up fast and I know you don't go for all that "hearts and flowers" stuff so I thought I'd help you celebrate it early in a more meaningful way.

I polished up your combat boots for the sit-in you're planning at the men's private club and I packed your lunch for tomorrow's take-over of the woman's magazine that writes all that trash about cooking, fashions and child care.

I hung up your strawberry chiffon, laid out your jeans and sweat shirt and patched up your "Down With Men" sign.

I also told Sis's boyfriend Steve today he'd better stop calling her his "little kitten" and "cute bunny" if he wanted to get into this family because you just don't cotton to those raw animalistic terms for women. I thought you'd appreciate that.

If you're wondering where the family is, Dad's working overtime so he can pay for that window you smashed in last week's demonstration; Sis is at the library boning up for the hearings on the equal rights amendment pending in Congress, and I'm down at Gloria's house. Her mother invited me over for dinner.

You wouldn't care too much for Gloria's mother. She's one of those enslaved victims of marriage you talk about. She was brainwashed early in life when her parents handed her a doll for Christmas. But, boy, Mom, for a slave, she sure does make the best apple pie.

Call me when you get home!

Your son,
Alfred

Alfred's note to his mom isn't entirely unrealistic. Women are on the rampage today and the antics of their organized groups are making good copy for newspapers, magazines, radio and TV stations.

One of the groups in NOW — National Organization for Women. 'Born' in 1966, NOW is involved in breaking down the traditional barriers to equality. An example of what they do: a pack of raiders from the NOW group staged a sit-in in the Oak Room of the Plaza Hotel in New York. Women have long been excluded from the Oak Room during lunchtime. Of course, in the end, NOW was outfoxed by the Plaza waiters who simply ignored them until finally hunger forced them to leave.

The WLF — Women's Liberation Front, is even more militant. It prefers spectacular protest and works through the network of underground newspapers and so-called "free" universities which mushroomed along with the civil rights and anti-war movements.

Members of still another group — an offshoot of WLF called WITCH or Women's International Terrorist Conspiracy from Hell — performed a Halloween dance down Wall Street to hex the nation's financiers.

Demonstrations, sit-ins, harassment — these have been the tools of these organizations. One thing we must admit about these aroused women is that they have focused attention upon a serious problem — one third of our United States workers are women who hold a grossly disproportionate number of menial, low-salaried jobs. Within the same occupations, women are paid from 50-60 per cent of what men are paid. This inequity is often justified by the notion that women need the money less. This is ridiculous — especially among the poor where more than 40 per cent of the households classified as poor are headed by women.

Despite all the tumult and shouting, however, Mother's Day will be observed the second Sunday in May. Mom will have tears in her eyes as she accepts the candy and flowers although secretly this middle-aged matron may have preferred a stretch jumpsuit or bikini for women are certainly more youthful, more trim, than they have even been. Mom's day will be very different from the time of Cybele, an earth-mother goddess whose worship in Asia Minor inspired paganistic rites, wild music and dancing. Researchers believe Cybele was the first mother to be honored. As the celebrations continued into Greece and Rome, picking up some additional matriarchal dieties along the way such as Rhea, Ge and Demeter, revelry became more subdued. In America, Mother's Day actually started as a church service for a dead woman — the mother of Anna M. Jarvis of Grafton, W. Va.

Regardless of how NOW, WLF or WITCH gals spend Mother's Day, if it's leadership they want — look to the Indians.

The Iroquois Indians, a native American people of the greatest political significance, were, before the arrival of white settlers, a matriarchal society. The women ruled over the social group. Long before the first suffragette made her appearance, the Iroquois ladies were playing a major role in the selection of the chiefs who led their tribes.

Many similar societies still exist among the primitive peoples of Australia, Africa, Sumatra, Formosa and India, we are told.

For them it's Mother's Day every day!

SWEET, SWEET POTATO — Mrs. Marvin Schildhon of Kingston is pictured here with a six months old sweet potato plant which is now being displayed at This 'n That Antique Shoppe in Hurley. Mrs. Dorothy Gersh, mother of Mrs. Shildhon and proprietor of the shoppe, says patrons have been showing an avid interest in the plant. Some persons find it hard to believe that the plant is "for real;" many are asking to purchase similar greens. Evidently, a green thumb is not necessary; Mrs. Gersh placed a sweet potato in a closet and within a few weeks it had begun to blossom and has continued to flourish vigorously. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

43 Women Employed In Vatican City!

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — From telephone operators to "doctors of the church," women for the first time are finding a place in the traditionally man's world of the Vatican.

The Vatican yearbook for 1970 lists 43 women employes of the Roman Curia, the central government of the Roman Catholic Church. And despite St. Paul's biblical admonition that women "keep silent," prelates now accept the advice of women on many matters affecting the distaff side, such as the administration of religious congregations.

Pope Paul VI has done more than any of his predecessors to better the status of women. He recently signed a decree naming two saints, Teresa of Avila and Catherine of Siena, as the first women doctors of the church, a title reserved for the greatest teachers of Catholic doctrine. There are only 30 doctors, including St. Augustine and St. Thomas Aquinas.

On a practical level, the Pope reportedly has authroized nuns to take over the Vatican telephone switchboard, now run by lay brothers.

The pontiff allowed women observers at the Ecumenical Council for the first time in history. He brought women into the curia.

He gave women a role in the Catholic liturgy, although many conservative churchmen would agree with Dr. Samuel Johnson's axiom that "a woman's preaching is like a dog's walking on his hinder legs. It is not done well. But you are surprised to find it done at all."

Nonetheless, a reform of the mass now being introduced throughout the world permits women to read gospel passages in church, provided they do it from outside the altar precinct. And as an exception, a few senior nuns are allowed to distribute consecrated communion wafers in areas where priests are scarce.

Most of the women working for the curia hold jobs in agencies set up as a result of the Ecunenical Council, such as the Pontifical Commission Justice and Peace or the Council of the Laity. Traditional old congregations, such as that for the Doctrine of the faith, the former Holy Office, still are male bastions.

The highest-ranking woman staff member of the curia is a diminutive Australian, Miss Rosemary Goldie, who is undersecretary of the Council of the Laity. She came to the job three years ago after many years of church service.

The Vatican is a tradition-minded institution that has been slow to accept the equality of women in modern society in part because this has been a late development in Italy. There still are considerable limits to what a woman can do in the church.

She may never be ordained. When the Dutch Pastoral Council, representing clergy and laity, voted in January in favor of women becoming priests, the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said the priesthood is open only to men because that was the way Christ wanted it.

BPW Installation Ceremonies Will Include State President

While the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club installs its new slate of officers for 1970-71, Carolyn DeLaMater, New York State BPW President, will serve as the installations officer.

Taking office will be Mary Fisher, president; Grace Ede, first vice president; Margaret Dalton, second vice president; Joanne Byrnes, recording secretary; Barbara Read, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ethel Howard, treasurer; and Mrs. Catherine Haines, assistant treasurer.

Outgoing president is Mrs. Virginia Neher. Serving with her during 1969-70 were Mary Fisher, first vice president; Grace C. Ede, second vice president; Christine Gallop, recording secretary; Gloria Jean Clark, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ethel Howard and Mrs. Catherine Haines as treasurer and assistant treasurer.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc., is the largest organization in the United States devoted entirely and actively to interests and needs of all employed women. It is a member of the National and International Federation of BPW Clubs.

The organization was founded in 1919. It is non-partisan; non-sectarian; and non-profit.

The purpose of the BPW is to promote the interests of business and professional women; to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women in the United States; to elevate the standards for women in business and the professions; to extend opportunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities. The BPW carries out its action program in three major areas — Personal Development, Civic Participation and World Affairs.

The Ulster County BPW was chartered on January 14, 1965. The outgoing president, Mrs. Neher, joins past presidents of club Beverly Reese, Dorothy A. Narel and Mary Polhemus.

The Ulster County BPW will host a District III meeting of BPW Clubs on Saturday, May 9. The all-day session and luncheon will be given at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Chairman of the event is Mary Fisher. District Director is Vivian Golub of Albany.

Mrs. Carolyn Eliason, the music director of the M.I.A. explained, "The M.I.A. is a youth organization of our Church that develops the individual talents of our young people in many ways."

Featured on the agenda will be the Kingston Ward Chorus, and Womens Chorus. Several solo numbers of classical and semi-classical music will also be performed.

"It is a semi-formal affair with light refreshments. We hope the public will take advantage of the evening and turn out to see it," said Mrs. Eliason.

Admission is free and the public is urged to attend for an encouraging outlook on the younger generation.

Auburn Mayor Challenges John Lindsay

AUBURN, N.Y (UPI)— Auburn Mayor Paul Lattimore challenged New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay to a debate on the subject of the assemblyman who changed his vote in order to pass the state's abortion law.

Lindsay declined to debate, but said in a telegram he would be happy to campaign for Assemblyman George Michaels, if Michaels asked him to do so.

Michaels was recently denied re-nomination by the Cayuga County Democratic committee because of his abortion vote. However, the eight-year assemblyman is entering the primary.

Lattimore said in a telegram he was making the offer to "put the Michaels drama into its true perspective."

"The Michaels forces have unfairly and viciously maligned the honesty and integrity and intelligence of the Cayuga County Democrats and their duly elected committeemen," Lattimore said.

Lattimore, who presides over a city with 35,000 population, also told Lindsay that "on a personal friendship basis, John, I will also show in less than an hour how to administer a city with a minimum of crime and disorder, a highly efficient garbage collection system and other essential services, all resulting in a substantial budget surplus."

Sawyer Nine Dumps Beacon High, 11-3

BEACON

Tom Cole turned in another strong pitching performance, as Saugerties High won its third game of the season, 11-3, over homestanding Beacon High here Tuesday.

Cole allowed only two hits, struck out six and walked three in going the distance. The Sawyer ace has accounted for all three victories by Saugerties this season.

Saugerties collected 12 hits off three Beacon pitchers and clinched the victory as early as the third inning when a five-run rally sent them ahead 7-1.

Four of the Sawyers collected two hits, with three players — Jeff Markle, Rich Koegel and White all smacking Koegel and Dee White all smacking double and single combinations. Frank Petramale had two singles.

Melendez and Schetter accounted for the two Beacon singles off Cole. All the runs off Cole were unearned. The other Saugerties safeties went to Gerry Malgieri, Gary Silinovich, Rick Lack and Dave Smith.

The Sawyers were scheduled to play at Ontoera High today.

Clete Aspires To Little Fire

Associated Press Sports Writer

Clete Boyer doesn't want to set the world on fire ... just start a little flame in Chief Noc-a-homa's tepee.

Boyer exploded two homers out of spacious Atlanta Stadium Tuesday night to lead the Braves' 12-6 victory over Pittsburgh—and that set off the fireworks in the left field tent of the team's colorful mascot.

Noc-a-homa rejoices with exploding fireworks in the tent and then a crowd-pleasing war dance outside everytime the home team hits one out. Boyer's two shots, and Hank Aaron's homer kept him twitching Tuesday night.

"Two homers, that's hard to believe, isn't it?" said an incredulous Boyer, better known for his fielding exploits at third base than his long-ball hitting.

Boyer also said he was thinking about hitting a third home run, but struck out with the bases jammed in the sixth.

The home run ball bounced around the rest of the National League and figured in some of the final margins as San Diego stopped Philadelphia 11-8; Cincinnati turned back St. Louis 5-1; Houston dropped Chicago 3-1, Los Angeles trimmed New York 4-0 and San Francisco beat Montreal 4-1.

In the American League, Minnesota spilled Detroit 8-5; Chicago nipped Cleveland 2-1; Baltimore ripped Kansas City 7-3 Boston beaned Milwaukee 6-0; Oakland pasted New York 11-3 and Washington defeated California 6-1.

Boyer raised his average 17 points to .212 with his 2-for-3 performance. He now has 18 hits and 17 RBI.

"When you've got guys like Aaron, (Rico) Carty and (Orlando) Cepeda batting in front of you, you're going to get some RBI," said Boyer.

Aaron's homer was the 10th this year and 564th of his fabulous career. Hammerin' Hank also is now only 14 away from the magic 3,000-hit career mark.

Aaron's two-run blow capped a seven-run first for the Braves that actually decided the issue. Boher hit a solo job to left in the third and followed with a three-run blast in the fifth.

Carty extended his hitting streak to 24 games—tops in the majors—with singles in the second and sixth. Hoyt Wilhelm made his 998th appearance, bailing out Braves' starter and winner George Stone in the seventh.

Clarence Gaston's two-run homer keyed a four-run ninth that propelled San Diego over Philadelphia. The Padres battled back after the Phillies scored seven runs in the opening frame and bolted ahead when Steve Huntz hit a leadoff double in the ninth and Gaston unloaded his fourth homer.

Lee May and Bobby Tolan ashed homers in support of Wayne Simpson's three-hit pitching as Cincinnati swept to its seventh straight.

Richie Allen had his eighth homer for the Cardinals.

Norm Miller clouted a homer behind Larry Dierker's four-hitter as Houston handed the slumping Chicago Cubs their fifth straight loss.

Bill Grabarkewitz and Wes Parker each ripped two-run doubles in Los Angeles' victory over New York. Grabarkewitz' blow scored Parker and Willie Crawford in the sixth inning, snapping a scoreless tie. Parker drove in Von Joshua and Maury Wills in the seventh.

Bobby Bonds stole three bases and drove in two runs with a sixth-inning single in San Francisco's victory. The Expos scored their only run of the game on a ninth-inning homer by Adolfo Phillips.

WALKILL

Onteora Central pitching remained strong here Tuesday, as Bob Leyes pitched the Indians to an impressive 3-0 victory over the homestanding Wallkill High nine.

The Indians are now 3-2 in Ulster County Athletic League (UCAL) play and 4-3-2 overall, having played two tie games, one an 11-inning affair.

Leyes limited Walkill to just four hits, two singles and two triples. He struck out 11 and walked only one. The Wallkill triples went to Ed Lawson and Jim Yates. Hita and Dunn accounted for the singles. The victory evened Leyes' personal record at 1 and 1.

Onteora, coming on strongly in recent games but perhaps too late to overhaul unbeaten Rondout, won the game as early as the first inning with a single tally. They added other solo runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

The Indians collected eight hits off two Wallkill pitchers — Lawson and Tom Mack.

Ed Mercer, the Onteora pitching ace who was impressive against New paltz Monday, moved to first base and led the Indians' eight-hit attack with three singles in four trips.

Steve Kimmel stroked a double and single for the winners, while Bob Janitz, Mike Gross and Bob Donovan all hit singles.

Tennis Win

KINGSTON

Kingston High School's tennis team made it three straight victories without defeat on the season, by topping Port Jervis High 5-0, at Forsyth Park Tuesday.

Coach John Hunter of the Maroons is delighted to be three and 0, on the season, "but he quickly pointed out that our real big test comes today, as we travel to face a strong Albany Academy squad," said Hunter.

Kingston swept all three single and both doubles matches. Jim Boyd defeated Steve Saul, 10-2; Pete Fowler shut out Gary Goldman, 10-0 and Rob Kline stopped Kevin Keane, 10-2.

In the doubles, Pete Boyd and Rick Halterman teamed for the Maroons to win, 10-1, over Saul and Goldman. In the other doubles match, Jim Corsones and Rick Salzman won 10-1, over Ted Schulman and Ray Hickman.

Ellenville Tops Bush

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville High School's baseball team defeated Pine Bush High 11-7, at the Ellies diamond Tuesday.

Larry Mansell pitched no-hit, no run game for five innings as his team built up a 11-0, lead over the Bushmen. Mansell was relieved by Victor Pensa.

Pensa was tagged for three hits and seven runs over the last two innings and Pine Bush just might have caught up if it were a nine inning game. There were no extra base hits in the game, but a total of 18 runs were scored between the two teams on only seven hits.

Ellenville travels to Monticello High Thursday. The Ellies are 4-4-1 on the season.

Aussies Exit Fast

SYDNEY, Australia, (AP) — Australia, for the second straight year, has not lasted long in Davis Cup Tennis competition and nobody seems to care all that much.

Gone is the excitement of the days of intense rivalry between the United States and Australia.

India's defeat of Australia in the Eastern Zone final at Bangalore Tuesday was a secondary story on newspaper sports pages here.

Cliff Sproule, chairman of the Australian selectors, said the Davis Cup is finished as a big international event unless it becomes open to professionals.

Sproule said Australia's defeat, for the first time, by India came as a surprise but not as a shock.

Mercer: One-Hitter

NEW PALTZ

Ed Mercer needed just one run to post a victory over host New Paltz, defending champions of the Ulster County Athletic League and he got it in the sixth inning as the Indian ace registered a one-hit shutout, dropping the home side into third place at 3-2, with a 1-0 victory.

It was the second straight defeat for the champs as idle Highland moved into second at 3-1 behind Rondout, 5-0.

Mercer struck out eight and walked but two as he allowed Bill McCord to hit a double in the bottom of the seventh with one out. Bill Schiller made the second out, before Mercer struck Harold Anderson with a pitch, putting men on first and second with two outs. Paul Rode then grounded out to shortstop Jim Smith, who tossed to Bob Leyes at first for the final putout.

The Indians scored in the top of the sixth as Steve Kimmel led off with a single, stole second and scampered home with the game's only tally on a single by Jim Smith.

Ray Zappone was the losing hurler, absorbing his second UCAL defeat in as many starts in succession. The New Paltz fire-baller mowed down 11 of the visitors, walking five, but couldn't quite match the performance by Mercer.

Maroon Checks Port For DUSO Golf Win

PORT JERVIS

Kingston High's undefeated golfers launched the defense of their DUSO League title with a 8½-3½ victory over Port Jervis High at the par-34 Eddy Farms course.

Joe Bostic and Doug Tatara carded one-over-par 35s to win three points each for the Maroon. Tatara recorded two birdies, hitting one of the par three 6th hole and another on the par five, 520-yard seventh. Bostic birdied the sixth hole

Bostic took the No. 1 match from Port's ace, John Costic, who had a 41. Tatara defeated Rich Saul, who posted a 42.

Gary Spears gave Port its only win in the No. 3 spot, hitting a 40 to beat Kingston's Bill Chappel, 2½ to ½ points. Chappel carded a 41.

Mark Brown then posted a 40, good for two points for the Maroons over Mike Carrol, who had 41 and one point.

The victory was Kingston's fourth against no defeats and one tie.

Rondout Valley Nips Highland

STONE RIDGE

Two errors permitted the lone and winning run in the bottom of the 11th inning, as Rondout Valley High's baseball team edged Highland High, 1-0, in a Ulster County Athletic League (UCAL) contest here Tuesday.

The game pitted two pitchers on each side in one of the top pitching classics in UCAL baseball history. Jim DeWitt of the Ganders was credited with the victory.

Steve Mattice and Skipp worked for Highland and Huyler Van Wagenen and Jim DeWitt for Rondout. Mattice struck out eight.

It was the sixth straight UCAL victory for Coach Hal Ross' Ganders, whose pitchers now have racked up 22 consecutive socreless innings against UCAL opposition.

Highland now stands at 3-1 in league play.

Mike Allecca, the Rondout centerfielder, opened the bottom of the 11th by reaching first base on an error. He then moved to second on a sacrifice.

Skipp relieved Highland starter Mattice at this point and intentionally walked Steve Wallach. John Durcan then walked Skipp for a walk to load the bases with only one out.

On the next play, Ed Krom lashed a grounder to first where first baseman bobbled the ball long enough for Allecca to score the winning run.

Mattice's double for Highland was the only extra base hit in the game. Bruce Burr had two singles for the winners.

Schiller tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly to right by Ray Eckert, in the top of the eighth f.. New Paltz. Marlboro got started in their half as Steve Lofaro singled, Dave Furhman struckout. Brian Kaley singled and both runners advanced as the pitcher was charged with an error.

PINE BUSH

Rondout Valley High School's baseball team remained at the top of the Ulster County Athletic League standings with a 2-0 victory over host Pine Bush. The Ganders are now 5-0 in the league while Pine Bush is 1-3.

Winning hurler Mike Alecca and loser Gary Sisco hooked up in a classic pitcher's duel as both chuckers allowed but eight hits between them. Alecca was tapped for five and Sisco three, but walks, errors and a timely hit by Gander shortstop George Wallach proved to be his downfall.

Sisco struck out 14 and allowed but one walk, while Alecca k'd 11 and walked two. Bushmen Cliff Rose had a double and Rich Alexander had two singles off the Gander ace.

Wallach singled in one run and then scored the other on a walk and successive errors by the Bushmen.

Bruins' Squad Very Tough

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Derek Sanderson explained it for the Boston Bruins when he said, "I thought this was going to be a lot tougher."

Sanderson spoke after the Bruins outshot, outhustled and outchecked the St. Louis Blues and gained a 6-2 win in the second game of the Stanley Cup Finals. Both Boston victories were on St. Louis ice, and the Bruins now have the chance of winning in four straight games their first Stanley Cup in 29 years. The third and fourth games are Thursday night and Sunday afternoon in Boston.

Sanderson said of the second game, "They never threw a check all night. They're known for checking only in the Western Division."

Sanderson Scores

Sanderson scored two of the Boston goals, Eddie Westfield added two more, and Fred Stanfield and Johnny Bucyk got the other goals. The Bruins sent 535 shots at rookie goalie Ernie Wakely, while Gerry Cheevers stopped 17 and allowed goals by Terry Gray and Frank St. Marseille.

Cheevers said, "I'm only thinking of the Stanley Cup. If you give St. Louis a nickel, they'll take a dime."

Boston Coach Harry Sinden, when asked about the possibility of the Bruins' winning the series in four straight games, said, "Well, I can see people drawing those conclusions. Sure, we're going to try to win it in four."

The Blues, who had shadowed Bobby Orr in the first game, tried the same strategy in the second game but abandoned it after Boston's second goal. Orr had two assists.

Sinden said, "You could try all you want to cover Orr and maybe not be successful. I wouldn't want the job."

Win for Marlboro

MARLBORO — Marlboro High School's track team scored a resounding victory over Highland, 81-46, in an Ulster County Athletic League Meet at the winners' oval. The Dukes won 10 first place victories out of a possible 13 and swept all field events.

Redwings In Triple

By United Press International

Rochester and Richmond played a virtual tripleheader in the International League Tuesday night.

The first game of a doubleheader between the two teams dragged on for 17 innings before Rochester's Jim Schaffer ended the marathon with a homer to give the Red Wings a 4-3 victory. In the nightcap, Richmond gained a split as Jim Breazeale homered to help the Braves beat Rochester, 5-3.

In other IL games, Toledo trimmed Louisville, 6-5, and Tidewater, 3-1.

Roger Freed blasted two homers — one with a man aboard — to give Rochester its other runs in the first game. Mickey Scott, who came on in the 14th inning, was the winner.

Gene Lamont blasted a second-inning homer for the Mud Hens in their win over Louisville.

Dear Abby

'Lion' or 'Lamb'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: To the numbskull who insisted that quiet men are the greatest lovers. She should meet my husband. He is a quiet man.

I went with him for 5 years before I was able to convince him that marriage was normal. Now I'm having a harder time trying to convince him that sex is also normal.

He came on like a lamb, turned into a lion for one glorious year, then turned back into a lamb, and he's been one ever since.

I have tried to break him down by inventing a little game I call "calendar." I bought a packet of gold stars and whenever he breaks down, I paste a gold star on the calendar. There are 50 stars in a pack, and at this rate I will have enough gold stars to last me a lifetime.

When we are with friends he laughs and says, "I think I'll trade my wife in for two twenties." Should I remind him that he can't even take care of one "40?" I am 44, attractive, clean and normal.

If I had it to do over again, I'd choose a lion to begin with. At least that way I'd know what I was getting.

MARIE IN SUNNYMEAD

DEAR MARIE: Yours is a rather special "lamb" who can turn into a "lion" —even for one glorious year. But knowing it is possible, doesn't that give you a clew?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a physician, but please omit my name and city. This "problem" is one that every doctor has encountered, and even tho I have my own way of handling it, I am writing to get your opinion.

The number of women patients who lie to their husbands about their age is shocking. They do not lie to their doctors, however. When I have a woman patient in the hospital, often her husband will corner me and ask me straight out how old his wife is.

Tell me, Dear Abby, if you were the doctor, how would you handle it? DOC

DEAR DOC: I would ask the man to ask his wife. How do YOU handle it?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: For 12 years my husband was bald. This last Christmas my daughter and I talked him into buying one of those new hairpieces for men. Thank goodness men are finally waking up to the fact that they too can improve their appearance.

I never knew a head of hair could do so much for anyone. He looks like he did 15 years ago, and he feels 20 years younger. He went on a diet and lost 20 excess pounds, bought a new wardrobe, and most of all, he has new pride in himself, and a new lease on life.

It really has made a big difference in our marriage. Now he takes me out for dinner and dancing when before it was a tug of war.

I just can't say enough for HAIR! HAPPY IN L'VILLE

DEAR HAPPY: The only thing that can top it is a HAT!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In your answer regarding how one addresses women in the professions, I wish you had gone on to explain titles for women, generally. Many people are often confused as to the use and meaning of the English-language "MRS." which is a corruption of "mistress of," designating a wife. Perhaps you could print the following, for clipping and reference by secretaries, editors, etc.

Mary Jones is "Mary Jones" or "Miss Mary Jones."

When she marries, she is: "Mrs. John Brown," "Mary Brown," or "Mary Jones Brown."

When widowed, she is EXACTLY the same!

When divorced, she is: "Mary Jones Brown" or "Mrs. Jones Brown."

There is no such entity as "MRS. MARY BROWN."

ROSEMARY IN N. Y.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a persona reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Jean Adams'

TEEN FORUM

CUT OFF: (Q.) My girl friend lives next door to me. On New Year's Eve we were out late and started to pet, rather heavily. We both said we ought to stop, but we didn't. And we kept up the petting on our dates.

Then my mother found a note from her mentioning what we were doing. Our parents got together. They questioned us and we told the truth. I promised the petting would stop.

But her mother told me the next day that I was to have no contact with my girl friend or with her brother, who is also a close friend of mine. There is no time limit. Just no contact from now on. I did not even get a chance to say goodbye to her.

Do you think this complete cutoff is right? Are they wrong? Or am I?– Frozen Out in Nebraska.

(A.) I commend you for telling the truth, regardless of the consequences. Your girl friend's parents were not wrong in taking strong action. But you are not wrong in wanting another chance.

Wait a month. Then, if your feelings have not changed, go to your friend's parents and ask them to give you a chance to be friends with her and her brother again.

UNDERWEIGHT: (Q.) I am underweight and have trouble with my face. If I start eating a lot my face gets worse. Do you have a diet that will help me gain weight fast but not break out?—A Skinny and Pimply Pennsylvania Boy

(A.) You should ask your doctor, or, if one is available, a dermatologist, to prescribe a diet for you. Either can consider your special situation and observe what effects the diet has on you.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope will be answered.)

CARROLL RIGHTER'S

horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is one of those days when many strange situations arise that need quick wit and objective thinking to handle them properly, and when you must be alert everywhere. Be poised and calm and show others you are reliable. The evening then becomes a very pleasant and happy one. THINK.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Today is not a good day to get emotional about every little thing, as is often your habit. Be poised and show that you have savoir faire. Get rid of that obsession you have. Think constructively.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you have some habit you want to get rid of, just make up your mind to do so, and it is done. Don't be so gullible. Believe about one-half of what you hear and not everything you see. Be smart.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you do not get a chance to be out-of-doors much, why not plan a trip soon and forget that comfortable chair? Be more active and you are happier. Be wise, healthier.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Your druggist could help you with some mild ailment you may have. Don't think it is something serious because you are not used to the discomfort. Avoid the social tonight and get a good rest.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If your line is selling, this a good day to get fine results. Money matters are very important today, so don't just dream about it: Get busy and you find that you feel a lot better.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Pay more attention to your newspaper in the morning. There could be something very important in it for you. Steer clear of the primrose path tonight at all costs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A day to do much profound thinking and getting important matters handled efficiently. Be wary of those who are trying to confuse you. Be happy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Some government matter requires your immediate attention, so be sure to give it. Take care of that domestic affair that is important, also. Avoid those who want to spend too much money in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Pay that long overdue bill. If some machinery you are using is not working properly, have it repaired. Don't work under unnecessary handicaps.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be more fastidious in your appearance and you find it pays off handsomely in dealing with others. More care in driving is also necessary. Save some time for that friend who wants to see you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some person of whom you are very fond needs your help now, so be sure to give it. Some plan to travel should be postponed for awhile. Be more thoughtful of others than you have been in the past.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) There are repairs to be made where you reside, so be sure they are taken care of soon. Be sure of what you are doing. Don't take the word of others so much.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people who likes to get things done fast, so don't hold your child back because you think he or she is working too hard, or you spoil the wonderful promise in this chart. Be sure to give the finest education you can afford, even though your youngster will very likely want to start working early in life and earn his own tuition. The law and business are best here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Viewer's Cup Runneth Over

NEW YORK (AP) — Two fine television programs in a single May evening—the viewer's cup really ran over Tuesday night.

First there came a graphic demonstration of the agony and exhileration of mountain climbing in NBC's "Once Before I Die." Later CBS showed California impressions of photographer Henri Cartier-Bresson.

The NBC program was a film and sound account of the exploits of a group of Americans, Sunday climbers who conquered a 20,000-foot peak in Afghanistan's Hindu Kush range.

The party was accompanied by a talented cameraman who had never climbed a mountain before. But he captured the awesome scenery and effort. The sound track often recorded only the gasping for breath by weary men in the high altitude.

The documentary started by introducing the audience to the adventurers in their normal surroundings. There were twin 53-year-old brothers—the sparkplugs of the expedition—a court stenographer, an electronics expert, a ski enthusiast.

As their expedition progressed their troubles multiplied—bad roads, rough terrain—and their determination increased.

By the end of the program, there was a satisfying answer to that old question of why men want to climb high peaks.

"It's the struggle," explained one man, but it was obvious throughout that each man was straining to the top in a test of himself.

It was a beautifully executed and very satisfying hour.

Cartier-Bresson caught the spirit of California life in the half-hour film essay on CBS. He caught in his motion picture camera scenes that were wildly funny, softly sentimental, savagely satiric and suddenly sympathetic.

The mixture pretty much defies description. The photographer watched the fun at a senior citizens enclave, lingered over the faces of high school girls trying to keep a smile on while trying out for cheerleader. An earnest woman talked of the dangers of pesticides. Surfers mooned over their girls, antiwar demonstrators sang "The Star Spangled Banner" off key while hard-faced onlookers booed.

Most of it was accompanied by a musical score that made its points and there was blessed little unnecessary commentary.

Our French visitor who achieved fame as a still photographer saw a lot, said a lot and did it beautifully.

In the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," the lord-high executioner has a list of people who would never be missed if he executed them.

We have our own list of bridge players who never will be missed. First and foremost is the declarer who looks over dummy and makes some remark about its strength or lack of strength. Not that we object to a polite "Thank you," partner" when he puts down the dummy.

South was one of those talkers. He looked at dummy for a microsecond and remarked, It looks as if we haven't bid enough."

South could have made a grand slam if he had simply played the ace of hearts at trick two, ruffed a heart at trick three, led to his ace of clubs at trick four, ruffed another heart at trick five, led to his king of clubs at trick six, ruffed another heart at trick seven, returned to his hand by ruffing either a club or diamond at trick eight and played out his trumps for the last five.

He could not have made the grand slam against a trump lead because he would not be able to ruff out his last heart.

There were dozens of ways to make the small slam but South was able to work out a way to go down. Of course, a really bad player could have gone down by drawing trumps before getting around to ruffing hearts, but South wasn't that bad.

His losing line of play was to cash his ace and king of clubs and ace of hearts before doing anything else. Then he ruffed a heart with dummy's eight-spot. At this point, South had a guaranteed way to make six. He could cross-ruff with high trumps but South was still thinking about seven. He ruffed a diamond with a low trump, ruffed and other heart and ruffed another diamond low. West overruffed and led a trump and South had tossed the slam away.

Saugerties Plans Board to Try Again

SAUGERTIES

The adjourned public hearing of Saugerties Town Planning Board for review of a proposed subdivision control ordinance will be held Thursday at 8 p. m.

Copies of the subdivision control draft have been available at the town clerk's office since last week. At the time of the hearing April 23 it was decided to adjourn the hearing because sufficient copies were not available for the large number that attended.

An explanatory statement was released this week by Manuel S. Emanuel Association, town planning consultants. The statement follows:

"The control of land subdivisions is one of the most important devices a community can use for assuring that new residential neighborhoods retain their beauty and value. Well designed subdivisions protect the most important investment the average homeowner will make in his lifetime. For the community, they assure attractive residential areas that will prove enduring assets, and developments that can be economically and easily serviced.

"Today, forward looking communities are paying increasing attention to the importance of realistic subdivision control. The alternative frequently is unattractive residential expansion containing within itself the seeds of steadily dwindling property values and blight. Subdivisions generally will remain in existense as long as the community itself , and if they are wisely designed, will continue to enhance the community. Poorly planned developments can only result in decreased tax revenues through deterioration of property values, and cause the shifting of population to other better planned areas.

"The Town of Saugerties Planning Board has prepared a proposed set of land subdivision regulations to aid itself and the community in making vital decisions when subdivisions are offered for approval. Although the Town Planning Board has had the power to approve subdivisions since it was created by the Town Board, it has never formally adopted rules and regulations governing the procedure for approval or the standards required to be met by subdividers.

"While subdivision control is one of the important duties of the Town Planning Board, it should not be confused with other methods of controlling community development which will be put into effect in the future as the local planning program progresses.

"The Town of Saugerties presently does not have a zoning ordinance, nor does it have a comprehensive development plan to guide its future development. Work on both of these projects has been started by the Town Planning Board but will require considerably more time to develop. If zoning were to be adopted, it would control not only residential development, but commercial and industrial development as well. Zoning would establish the minimum lot sizes and bulk requirements which must be met before building takes place. It would also define the areas of the township wherein particular types of land use activity could take place. A zoning ordinance would have to be enacted by the Town Board although it could be prepared initially by the Town Planning Board.

"The proposed subdivision regulations cannot legally include matters which a zoning ordinance would cover. The control of subdivisions by the Planning Board can only deal with residential areas and affect the arrangement of building lots and streets as well as the placement of utilities, open space, easements and other land reservations.

"Another device for the control of development is a building code which would govern the standards and materials requirements for the erection of the buildings within a community whether they be residential, commercial or industrial.

"A preliminary proposal for the adoption of a building code is now being reviewed by the Town Board and Town Planning Board for possible enactment in the near future. Again, a building code should not be confused with subdivision regulation since the latter cannot legally deal with the actual construction of buildings.

"The Planning Board, in proposing the adoption of the land subdivision regulations, is taking one of the first steps to guide future development in the Township. Meanwhile, work is proceeding on other elements of a long-range comprehensive planning program, including such things as a building code, a zoning code and comprehensive development plan. They are all vital interrelated steps, but a beginning must be made somewhere. A great deal of hard work by the Planning Board and the community lies ahead if Saugerties is to continue to be a good place to live."

Budget Vote In Rhinebeck

RHINEBECK

Rhinebeck Central School District residents will vote on the proposed 1970-71 budget, an added proposition, and the candidates for a board seat today from 2-9 p.m.

The annual meeting held Tuesday night at the high school was attended by 13 persons, and no questions were raised, according to board member Dr. James McClenahan. The 7:30 p.m. meeting was finished in 20 minutes. "We just fulfilled the legal requirements," said McClenahan.

The non-controversial proposed budget will raise school taxes by only 15 cents on a true $1,000, largely due to increased state aid of $150,000 made available during the last week of the legislative session.

The budget is up $155,277.18, an 8.6 per cent increase over this year's, to a total $1,956,817.93. There were no problems in teachers negotiations, as a two-year contract was signed last year.

Proposition Number One on the ballot is a request for the voters to authorize that future vacancies on the board of education would not be considered as separate specific offices, as at present.

Cary Grant Is Named in Paternity Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Cary Grant was named in a paternity suit filed in Superior Court Tuesday by a former employe of a Hollywood film studio.

Cynthia Bouron, 32, of Beverly Hills, claimed Grant was the father of Stephanie Andrea Grant, who was born March 12 in Los Angeles hospital.

The suit contended Miss Bouron lacked adequate funds to provide support for herself and the baby, and asked the court for "a reasonable sum."

Her attorney, Donald R. Bringgold of Beverly Hills, would identify the woman only as a former production employe for a film studio and he declined to release any further information.
